WOMAN FIGURES IN KILLING OF JITNEY DRIVER

Body of Samuel Brown Jr.,
Mail Carrier by Day and Chauffeur by Night, Found at Unfrequented Spot on Riverside Drive.

Lured by Phone Call to Take Out a Party of Joy Riders
—Three Wounds in Body
Lying Near Auto.

One of Shots Fired So Close
That Powder Flash Had Burned Clothing—Motive
for Murder Unrevealed.

After city and county officials had been working all day in an effort to clear the mystery of the slaying of Samuel Brown Jr., 34-year-old mail carrier and jitney driver, of 5224 Oak Boulevard, shot and left dead beside his machine on the unfrequented Riverside Drive last night, Coroner Bopp of St. Louis County this afternoon said that a quarrel over a woman was the only suggested cause of the killing.

Bopp said he had received information that Brown's attention to a woman had aroused the anger of one of her relatives whose name was in possession of the county authorities and for whom a search was being made.

Brown was shot three times and killed two miles north of the Chain of Rocks pumping station after he had been called from his home by telephone to take a party out for a joyride.

Mystery in Assassination Escape.
One of the mysteries is how the members of the party departed from the scene after the killing. They were miles from a street car and on a dark road skirted on one side by high bluffs and on the other by the Mississippi River. It is thought by county authorities that if the killing was premeditated another automobile, or perhaps a river launch, may have been in waiting to carry Brown's assailants to safety.

Another party of automobilists found Brown dead in the road beside his machine about 10:45 p. m. and reported the discovery to the police. No clue has been found as to the identity of the persons who were with Brown in the machine.

It is known that a man who gave his name as Mitchell telephoned to Brown about 7 p. m. and engaged him to have his car at Spring and Park avenues at 7:30 p. m. Brown left home saying he was going to keep this engagement.

GERMANY TO TAKE CONTROL OF WHOLE SUPPLY OF FOOD

Coffee, Cocoa and Tea Added to Articles Whose Sale Is Regulated by State.

SAUERKRAUT PRICE FIXED

Maximum Prices for All Varieties of Meat and Fish Believed to Be in Sight.

By Associated Press.
BERLIN, Nov. 12, by wireless to Sayville, N. Y.—Answering the petition of the Socialist party concerning the question of food prices, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, the Imperial Chancellor, declared that the population of the country could be completely assured that the hopes of the Entente Powers of starving out Germany would be disappointed.

BERLIN, via London, Nov. 12.—Virtually the entire food supply of the nation is expected soon to pass under governmental control, to insure an equitable distribution of supplies at fair prices among the entire population, rich and poor. Coffee, tea and cocoa were added today to the list of products whose sale will be regulated by the state. The Federal Council authorized the Chancellor to issue regulations covering trade in these commodities.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Beginning Nov. 15 butter will be added to the list of articles whose exportation is forbidden by the Swedish Government, according to a dispatch from Stockholm. This will make an embargo on the export of food products virtually complete. (See summer the Kitchener Bank failed, and in August war broke out.)

JURY AWARDS $2200 DAMAGE TO WOMAN BITTEN BY A DOG

Ernest C. Albrecht, Owner of Animal,
Falls to Appear in Mrs. Mary Kenney's Case.
A jury in Circuit Judge Hennings' court today awarded to Mrs. Mary Kenney, 25 years old, of 3037 Cottage avenue, $2200 damages against Ernest C. Albrecht and his wife, Anna, of 2244 Louisiana avenue, for injuries she received, June 18, 1913, when she was attacked by the Albrechts' bulldog and bitten 23 times. The case went to Mrs. Kenney's cellar. On the day Mrs. Kenney was attacked, she testified, she entered the yard from an alley and was surprised to see the bulldog, which had been unleashed.

$65,000,000 POWDER ORDER

WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 12.—The Dupont Powder Co., according to trustworthy information, has received an additional $65,000,000 powder order from the entente allies.

Made a Colonel for Holding Italy's Cannon on Captured Summit.
MILAN, Nov. 12.—Peppino Garibaldi, the son of the famous Italian patriot, was promoted to the rank of colonel for his part in the storming of the Col di Lanzo, says a dispatch from Bergamo to the Corriere della Sera.

BRITAIN WILL NOT YIELD TO U. S., SAYS LONDON SPECTATOR

Declares Demands in Note Will Be Firmly Rejected and "There Will Be No Consequences."

CALLS DOCUMENT HARSH

Future Americans Will Not Be Proud of Country's Course in War, Paper Says.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—"The American note causes us little concern as Englishmen," says the Spectator, commenting on the recent note of the United States to Great Britain relative to interference with American trade. "Its harsh and unsympathetic tone will not make us relax in the slightest degree the grip on the throat of Germany which our sea power gives us. We shall answer the note politely and in a much more human spirit than that which inspires its words, but we shall answer it firmly. That we must do, whatever the consequences, but there will be no consequences."

The Spectator believes that the majority of Americans would not tolerate seeing Great Britain "stabbed in the back." It does not believe President Wilson will mix the problems of munitions and contraband and it refuses to regard America as a purely foreign country. The weekly continues: "When history comes to be written Americans of the future will feel anything but pride when they remember the official action of America during the great war. They will note how, first it considered maintaining a rigid neutrality on the moral issue—the brutalizing of Belgium, as Col. Roosevelt called it—further, how the Washington Government bore the outrages committed on American subjects like the sinking of the Lusitania, until the efficiency of the British navy had abated the under-water menace, and again when, in the supreme moment of England's agony they thought they had found certain technical infringements of their rights they vehemently pushed their paper cards."

The Spectator says that the British have not torpedoes American ships nor killed American citizens, and that the British embargo has been the center of plots and conspiracies, yet when the whole tone of the notes toward Great Britain and Germany is considered, it is much less friendly toward Great Britain than toward Germany.

German Newspapers Comment on U. S. Note to Britain.

BERLIN, via London, Nov. 12.—The Vossische Zeitung says it regards the American note to Great Britain as an irretrievable document from a legal standpoint, but that everything depends upon the practical thing the authors intend to achieve, "for they cannot have been in doubt that they have placed Great Britain between two alternatives—of rejecting the American demands, or of surrendering all the advantages which the navy gives Great Britain in her war against the Germans." What is said to be an inspired dispatch from Berlin to the Cologne Gazette says: "The energy with which the President, after the settlement of the controversy with Great Britain, has taken up the question of the Anglo-American question is acknowledged unreservedly here. There could be no more convincing documentary proof of the importance of American interests and the extent of the British violations of right than this note."

America, it must be conceded, has spoken thoroughly and energetically. The immediate future will show how strong is the political demonstration behind these words."

"DETROIT PINCH" TO BE TRIED HERE ON AUTO DRIVERS

Means Pasting on the Machine a Printed Notice of Arrest for Unlawful Parking.

The "Detroit pinch," so known from its use in Detroit, by which a patrolman notifies you that you are under arrest by pasting a sticker on the windshield of your automobile, will be used by new motorists in St. Louis why defy a new ordinance forbidding the parking of machines in streets east of Twelfth.

Director of Streets Talbot will next week introduce bills regulating this and other features of traffic reform that he has evolved from a study of downtown conditions.

Director Talbot will arrange for the parking of automobiles on Twelfth street between Chestnut and Market streets, and on the vacant property owned by the city on the block east of Twelfth. Automobiles may not stand longer than an hour at any point in the district bounded by Market street, Washington avenue, the river, and Twelfth street, under the proposed ordinance.

The only exception will be the block on the Fourth street side of the Court-house, where the sidewalk has been narrowed in order to make room for machines. This will serve also at night as a place for a certain number of machines carrying playgoers to the Olympic Theater, while the Twelfth street block will furnish room for those attending the Shubert Theater.

SUES BANKER FOR $6297, PURCHASE PRICE OF A STORE

Widow Says She Was Misinformed as to Value of Stock
Sold to Her Son.

Mrs. Sarah E. Moser of St. Louis County brought suit today against Julius Kessler of Bridgeton, president of the State National Bank of Wellington, for $6297.98, with interest from Jan. 29, 1913.

Mrs. Moser states in her petition that following her husband's accidental death in April, 1912, on the Washburn Railroad, she received $4575 damages and $1000 insurance, which she deposited in Kessler's bank.

Her son, Ignatius Moser, in January, 1913, wanted to purchase a store at Bonifia, St. Louis County, and she agreed to lend him $1000, if Kessler thought the store would be a paying proposition.

Mrs. Moser alleges that Kessler influenced her son to purchase instead a store at Bridgeton, owned by David Schaepp, who, she states, is a brother-in-law of Kessler. She alleges her son used nearly all of her bank funds, upon Kessler's representations that the store and contents were worth $6500.

NO ONE CAN TELL WHY A SPEEDER'S CASE WAS DROPPED

Policeman Says He Was Ready to Testify in Appeal of Borchers' $200 Fine.

Investigation was made today by a Post-Dispatch reporter to learn why a charge of speeding against Ernest Borchers of the City of St. Louis, known as the daredevil of the Jitney fleet, had been dismissed in Judge Clark's court last September 17. Borchers had taken the case to Judge Clark's court on appeal from a $200 fine in Judge Sanders' Police Court on Aug. 20. Attention was drawn to the dismissal of the $200 fine case when Borchers was fined $500 by Judge Hogan yesterday for his fourth proven violation of the speed law within five months.

Assistant City Counselor Norman J. Sadler, who dismissed the case in Judge Clark's court, was asked why he did not remember the case, but he assumed that the motorcyclist policeman who was the prosecuting witness did not appear.

Motor Cycle Policeman Walter Shaw said he appeared in Judge Clark's court on the day of the trial, and informed the bailiff that he could be found, when wanted, in Police Judge Hogan's court, in the same building, where he was needed to testify in other speeding cases. When he returned to Judge Clark's court, about an hour later, he said he did not have any recollection of this particular case, and was informed that it had been dismissed by the State.

The policeman said he arrested Borchers on Aug. 25 for driving 35 miles an hour on Washington boulevard, between Vandeventer and Newmarket avenues. Deputy Sheriff Edward Phelan, bailiff in Judge Clark's court, said he had no recollection of Policeman Shaw having told him where he could be found.

Assistant City Counselor Sadler today said he did not have any recollection of this particular case, and was informed that it had been dismissed by the State.

MAIN SERVIAN ARMY REPORTED TO BE CUT OFF

Dispatches to Italy Say It Is Feared Force Has Been Hemmed In by Bulgarians and Germans Between Kralievo and Nish.

Greek Chamber of Deputies Is Dissolved by the King and Elections Are Set for Dec. 19.

Constantine Chooses a Time for Balloting When 400,
000 Soldiers Cannot Register Choice.

By Associated Press.
MILAN, Italy, Nov. 12.—There is grave reason to fear that the main body of the Servian army, which has been fighting the Germans and the Bulgarians, has been cut off between Kralievo and Nish, says a dispatch received here from the Secolo's Servian correspondent.

It is possible, the dispatches say, that as the southern Servian army is being hemmed in at Katchanik, the retreating columns may escape the tangles of the invaders, but it is considered significant that no news has been received from the retreating Servian army for five days.

Kralievo is about 70 miles northwest of Nish. The Germans have been moving southward from Kralievo, while the Bulgarians have been advancing west from Nish.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—All doubts as to what road Greece would choose out of the middle caused by the diverging views of her political leaders as to how the solution of the Macedonian problem could be rendered compatible with the opinions of the adverse majority in the Chamber, today were ended by a public declaration of the Chamber of Deputies, and the naming of Dec. 19 for elections.

Publication of the decree apparently was received in Athens with calm, despite the fact that all elements hoped to avoid elections at the present difficult moment. The Greek Government, it appears, considered dissolution the only possible means of obtaining for itself full and unrestricted liberty of action.

Greek officials in London and at other points continue to assert that Greece's future action depend solely upon military and not political considerations. As soon as Greece is convinced beyond doubt that the allies have produced enough troops to make possible a successful offensive against Bulgaria and to remove the danger with which Greece would be confronted if she entered the war inadequately assisted, Greece will, so say her representatives in Europe, immediately raise herself on the side of the allies and give all the military co-operation of which she is capable.

In dissolving Parliament for a fresh referendum of the peace-or-war question King Constantine deliberately did what former Premier Venizelos declared he had no right to do, the question having been settled, in Venizelos' opinion, in favor of war by the election, six months ago, of the assembly. Constantine named an election date when a genuine ballot is impossible, inasmuch as all the trained men of military age are with the colors and cannot vote.

GERMANS STILL PURSUE SERVANS

Advance to South Has Taken
Tentons 100 Miles Into the Country.

BERLIN, Nov. 12, by wireless to Sayville.—Pursuit of the Servian army in a southerly direction continues, according to German official reports received today. The advance of the Germans in the Russian Valley, southwest of Krasnodar, has reached the town of Krasnodar. For their outward Rhine and Rhenish rivers have taken the Germans nearly 100 miles south of the Hungarian border.

Yesterday more than 100 Servians were taken prisoner and 15 cannon were captured. The statement adds that the first mountain ridge south of Krasnodar has been crossed.

ian disasters in Libya, Northern Africa," says the Overseas News Agency. "Arabs have conquered Leletra, Hun Radan, Kallin, Urtin, Kallin, Turin and Tarrhoun. The Italian losses were heavy. In addition the Arabs captured 20 cannon and three machine guns and plenty of ammunition."

British Announce Torpedoing of Transport on Sept. 2.
LONDON, Nov. 12.—The War Office has issued the following announcement: "On Sept. 2 the transport Southland, for Alexandria, was torpedoed in the Aegean Sea, but reached Mudros under her own steam the same day. As a precautionary measure the troops were transferred to other transports. There were some casualties amounting to 10 killed, two slightly injured and 23 missing—believed to have been drowned."

A report of the torpedoing of the British transport, Southland, which formerly was the Red Star liner Vaderland, was given out by the Overseas News Agency at Berlin on Sept. 8.

Russians Reported to Have Sent Force Up the Danube.
LONDON, Nov. 12.—A dispatch to the Daily Express from Geneva says a message received there from Bucharest states that the Russians have ascended the Danube River and landed a small force of men and guns near Silistria.

Silistria is on the southern bank of the Danube in Rumanian territory, some 20 miles east of where the river reaches Bulgarian soil.

French Minister Sent on Special Mission to Orient.
PARIS, Nov. 12.—Denes Cochon, minister without portfolio in the Briand cabinet, has been sent by the Government on a special mission to the Orient. He was accompanied by his secretary, Charles de Lasteyre. His brother, Col. Cochon, who recently was wounded, departed last night for Salonika.

M. Cochon was for many years vice president of the Chamber of Deputies Committee on Foreign Relations.

1500-Ton British Steamer Sunk; One Survivor Land.
LONDON, Nov. 12.—The British steamship Rhineland has been sunk (presumably by a submarine). Up to the present only one survivor has been landed.

The Rhineland was of 1501 tons gross.

Greek Premier Reported to Have Said Greece Planned No Attack on Bulgaria.
On Bulgaria.

BERLIN, Nov. 12, by wireless to Tuckerton, N. J.—The Overseas News Agency says: "According to reports from Athens received in Budapest, the Turkish and Bulgarian ministers at Athens have entered a protest, couched in friendly terms, against the presence of Anglo-French troops in Greek Macedonia as not being in accordance with Greek neutrality."

"Premier Skouloudis replied, according to the Budapest press, that he took notice of the protest and that the Government would do what was possible in order to clarify the situation. "According to a dispatch to the Cologne Gazette from Sofia, the Premier has assured the Bulgarian minister of the Premier's sincere desire to maintain friendly relations between Greece and Bulgaria, and that Greece was not planning to attack Bulgaria."

struck, the elbow would have been in a much lower position. Brown's father, Samuel Brown, told the police his son was called on the telephone at 7 p. m. and seemed to have some difficulty in understanding the name of the caller. He was heard to repeat the name Mitchell, Mitchell and Mitchell, but he finally understood the name as Mitchell, and made an engagement to have his car at Spring and Park avenues at 7:30 p. m.

Motorman Mitchell Called an Auto.
The appointed meeting place at Spring and Park avenues is in the middle of a long, unfrequented block skirted on one side by the United Railways lumber yard and on the other by vacated lots. The police learned that Herschel Mitchell, a United Railways motorman, formerly lived at 285 Polson avenue, about a block from Spring and Park avenues. Mitchell went off duty at 6:21 p. m. yesterday and reported again at 6:31 p. m. today, when he was questioned by a detective.

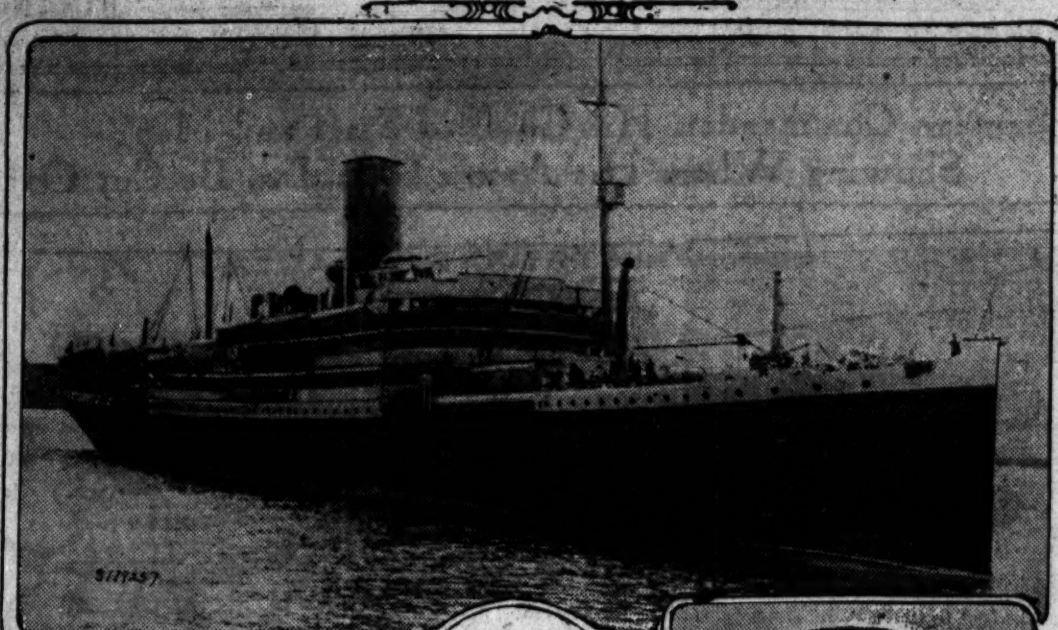

Mitchell told of a telephone call for an automobile last night, but said it had no connection with Brown's engagement. Mitchell's brother-in-law, William Wilson of Crocker, Mo., is at Mitchell's home, 127 St. Anne avenue. Yesterday, Mitchell said, Wilson saw an advertisement of a second-hand automobile for sale, and last night about 7 o'clock he copied up the telephone number given in the advertisement, Central 61, and arranged that the car be brought to St. Anne and Park avenues between 7 and 8 p. m. today for his inspection.

Central 61 is the telephone number of the Motor Co. Mitchell's statement as to his brother-in-law's telephone call was verified there today.

AMERICA AIDS PEACE MOVE

BERNE, Nov. 12.—The committee which is meeting here to organize a congress to study and determine bases of durable peace, announce that it is receiving considerable support from neutral countries, especially the United States. It is stated that expressions of interest have been received from former President Taft, President Lowell of Harvard, Prof. William L. J. Hull of Swarthmore, Pa., and John Barrett. A large delegation is expected from America to attend the Congress, which will open Dec. 14. It was said subscriptions totaling $1500 have been received from the United States to help defray expenses.

with the British fleet. That was another contrast with the confusing business of politics in London. It was ever so ready as the British navy was, and that it also may outnumber the enemy. In that case we need not let the politicians worry us. If it takes a navy the size of the British to make an impregnable line of steel from the British channel to Iceland, how large a one will we require if we ever should be attacked on two sides to defend our coasts on two oceans, the Panama Canal, Hawaii and the Philippines and the Monroe Doctrine?

Inspired by Miss Cavell. "Miss Edith Cavell's execution did more for recruiting in England and France than all the Zeppelin raids. I happened to be with the French when the news of her death was received. Its effect on the troops was instant, electric. The woman's sacrifice had a Joan of Arc character that struck home to the French heart. Officers spoke of it as an event that had done more to cement the alliance of France and England to fight to the last man than all the speeches of statesmen and conferences of generals. "Miss Cavell's picture, taken from the newspapers, is pinned on cottage walls all over France. Deep as the impression was on the civil populations of both England and France, it was slight beside that made on the soldiers. I remember the day after the news, so I was able to judge the effects on both the British and French armies. The thought that went home was the fact that Miss Cavell was a nurse. Men who have been wounded know what a nurse's care means. That a nurse, under any circumstances, should be shot was an unspeakable horror to them. "British soldiers before a charge now shout all along the line, 'For Miss Cavell!'"

PRISONERS' DASH FOR LIBERTY AT LIBERTY, MO., IS FOILED

Blew Out Part of Wall at Jail With Nitroglycerin, but Citizens Prevented Their Escape.
LIBERTY, Mo., Nov. 12.—Prisoners in the Clay County jail tried to blow out the east wall of the jail with nitroglycerin at 3 o'clock this morning. The wall was so thick a hole was not torn clear through. Citizens aroused by the explosion reached the scene before the prisoners could dig their way out. Last week four saws were found in the jail that had been passed into the cells by Kansas City men. The nitroglycerin is supposed to have been passed in by the same parties.

FINANCING OF DEFENSE PLANS DISCUSSED AT CABINET MEETING

Prevailing Idea Is to Avoid Bond Issue—Optimistic Business Reports Heard.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—President Wilson said the cabinet met today for the first time since last July, when the German submarine question was at one of its most serious stages. From now on the cabinet will meet regularly twice a week. The principal subject taken up today was how to raise the money for carrying out the defense plans. No definite conclusion was reached, but the prevailing idea was to avoid a bond issue. The subject will be considered further at conferences between the President and Democratic leaders of the Senate and House. Secretary Houston said that the agricultural interests of the country were in very good condition. Optimistic reports of business conditions were laid before the cabinet.

U. S. AMBASSADOR AT ROME TAKES UP ANCONA SINKING

ROME, Nov. 12.—United States Ambassador Page called at the Foreign Office yesterday and had a long talk with Baron Sonnino. The nature of the conference is unknown, but it is assumed the sinking of the Ancona was discussed informally. The Italian Government has ordered a rigid investigation of the disaster. The inquiry is proceeding under the direction of the Italian naval officers. A special effort is being made to determine what the facts are regarding the responsibility, whether warning was given and whether an opportunity was afforded for the passengers to escape. Only 225 passengers and crew of the steamer Ancona were saved out of a total of 428 on board, says a dispatch from Tunis to the Corriere della Sera. Previous dispatches placed the number of passengers on the Ancona at 425 and the crew has been estimated at from 60 to 100.

Germany Has No Official Report on Sinking of Ancona.

BERLIN, via London, Nov. 12.—The Ancona case as yet belongs to the category of submarine incidents regarding which German naval circles have no news except that which comes from hostile sources. Even the semi-official announcement made yesterday that the Ancona was sunk while trying to escape was derived from accounts sent out by the Havas and Stefani news agencies. Nothing has been published here from the Austrian side and it was stated at the Admiralty that so far as was known the Austrian Government had received no report of the incident.

Ancona Captain's Report Says Lifeboats Were Shelled.

NAPLES, Nov. 12.—The captain of the Ancona has received the report of the Ancona's captain, in which he makes the positive charge, previously reported in dispatches, that the submarine gave no warning to the liner or afforded those on board of her a chance to escape.

The first shot, the captain's report declared, was fired when the submarine was three miles distant. The captain immediately stopped the ship, he says, but this did not appear to satisfy the commander of the submarine, which continued to shell the liner. The captain without delay ordered everybody to take to the boats upon which, he declares, the submarine turned all her guns, killing and wounding many persons both in the boats and on the deck of the steamer. Some of the passengers who were thrown into the water and sought to save themselves by clutched the sides of the submarine were pushed away with fears and insults, he asserts.

Ancona Incident Discussed at Cabinet Meeting.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—State Department officials are perplexed today over unanswered queries in getting definite official information on the sinking of the Italian liner Ancona, with probable loss of American passengers. No dispatches had reached the State Department early today. The Ancona incident was discussed at the meeting of the cabinet with the President today. A consular official has been ordered to Tunis from a nearby post, on the assumption that Consul James B. Young is not there. Meanwhile Ambassador Page at Rome is expected to send some definite official details. His official dispatch so far make no reference to the circumstances of the firing on the liner, the question of warning, the nationality of the submarine and other details, which are to be cleared up as promptly as possible by the taking of testimony of survivors.

Submarine That Attacked Ancona Not German, Berlin Papers Say.

BERLIN, Nov. 12, by wireless to Sayville, N. Y.—"Discussing the case of the Italian steamship Ancona which was sunk in the Mediterranean by a torpedo, the Berlin newspapers," says the Overseas News Agency, "point out that according to the already published trustworthy information the vessel after receiving a warning from the submarine tried to escape and that the submarine therefore was fully justified in using force." The newspaper further asserts that all the news from foreign sources agree that the submarine flew the Austro-Hungarian flag. They affirm that it was not a German boat since no warship would fly other than its right flag at the moment of action."

ENGLAND HINTS AT CONSCRIPTION AFTER NOV. 30

Necessary Steps Will Be Taken Unless More Men Enlist, Earl of Derby Says.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—A statement has been issued by the Earl of Derby, director of recruiting, with the authority of the Prime Minister, which says: "If young men medically fit and not indispensable in any business of national importance or any business conducted for the general good of the community, do not come forward voluntarily before Nov. 30, the Government will, after that date, take the necessary steps to redeem the pledge made on Nov. 2."

On the date referred to, Premier Asquith announced in the House of Commons that if young men did not come forward voluntarily, and enlist "other and compulsory means" would be taken before married men were called upon to fill their engagement to serve. Lord Derby adds: "Whether a man is indispensable or not to his business will be decided not by the man or his employer, but by competent authorities and tribunals which are being set up to consider such cases."

NEW RECRUITING PLAN IN IRELAND

Lord Wimborne Appoints Lloyd-George's Agent to Direct Work in All Counties.

Correspondence of Associated Press.
DUBLIN, Nov. 12.—Recruiting in Ireland has been placed upon a new basis. Hitherto the work has been entrusted to voluntary committees formed in each county, with a central recruiting council for Ireland. The Lord Lieutenant of a county, usually a peer, has been at the head of the work in his county. Meetings have been held in every part of Ireland, resulting in the enlistment of 81,000 men for the infantry. As the percentage of rejections for fitness has been as high as 50 per cent, the total number from Ireland, who offered themselves for service in the army, was about 160,000.

A fresh appeal has been made for men and a new department for Irish recruiting has been established under the supreme leadership of Lord Wimborne, Lord Lieutenant. He has appointed as chief director Capt. R. C. Kelly. He came over here some months ago as the representative of David Lloyd George's Munitions Department. In that capacity he met the principal manufacturers and employers of labor in Ireland. He has put the munitions business in Ireland well on its feet and gained the approval and the friendship of every section.

Von der Lancken is an assistant to Gen. von Blomberg, and it was he who is charged with preventing the American Minister's appeals from reaching his chief.

Capt. Kelly cannot employ the same methods in Ireland as Lord Derby is employing in England, as there are no forms in Ireland from which lists of available men to be canvassed can be compiled.

It is likely, therefore, that the new methods of recruiting will have to be based, like the old ones, on general appeals.

The most effective appeals addressed to Irishmen have been based upon the invasion of Belgium. The torpedoing of the Lusitania was a powerful stimulus to recruiting which was aided by the sinking of the Arabic.

MRS. LAMP TESTIFIED YESTERDAY AFTERNOON THAT LEAHY, AFTER THE DIVORCE, HAD BEEN GRANTED, TOLD HER SHE DID NOT OWE HIM A CENT.

Mrs. Lamp said Leahy and Dillon agreed to handle her case for what compensation the court might allow, which was $3000. The fee was assessed against Lamp and he paid it, the two attorneys dividing it equally. Leahy said his part of the $3000 was "on account," and that it was not his custom to make a final charge until a case had been concluded. Mrs. Lamp complained that her counsel contended too much for alimony and not enough for custody for her child, her chief concern.

Arguments Made in Attorney's Suit for Fee in Obtaining Her Divorce From Leahy.

Arguments were made this morning, in Judge Jones' Court, in the Leahy, Saunders & Barth suit against Mrs. Lillian Handlan Lamp for $5000, for legal services of John S. Leahy, in obtaining a divorce for her from William J. Lamp, with $100,000 alimony and custody of her son, in 1910.

O'Neill Ryan, Mrs. Lamp's lawyer, asked that the jury be discharged, on the ground that Leahy, in his testimony, had made an improper statement in the jury's hearing. This statement was that Mrs. Lamp had settled with the widow of Daniel Dillon, who was associated with Leahy in the case. Mrs. Dillon filed a suit, similar to Leahy's against Mrs. Lamp. Judge Jones overruled the motion.

Mrs. Lamp testified yesterday afternoon that Leahy, after the divorce, had been granted, told her she did not owe him a cent.

U. S. TAKES UP SPY CHARGES AGAINST AUSTRIAN CONSULS

Department of Justice to Sift Dr. Joseph Gorlicar's Story of Elaborate System in America.

ST. LOUIS OFFICE INCLUDED

Ex-Consul Alleges He Was Asked to Get Plans of Coast Fortifications and Navy Yard.

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Published charges, attributed to Dr. Joseph Gorlicar, former Austro-Hungarian Consul at San Francisco, that Austrian consuls in the United States, working under the direction of Consul-General von Nuber and Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, are active in propaganda for destruction of munitions factories and fomenting strikes among the workers, will be referred by the State Department to the Department of Justice for investigation.

The Austrian embassy here denounced Gorlicar's published statement as untrue in every particular and announced it would try to find some way to prosecute him for it. Gorlicar, the embassy said, quit his post on leave and failed to return.

Landings Declined to Comment. Secretary Lansing declined to comment on the disclosures. The Department of Justice has nothing definite on the charges attributed to Dr. Gorlicar.

In substance, Gorlicar is credited in yesterday's Providence (R. I.) Journal with making the statement that he resigned his post after 15 years in the Austrian consular service, because he declined to perform the work of a spy. He charges that, while he was Consul at San Francisco, Commander Maximilian Burstin, the Austrian naval attaché at Washington, ordered him to gather plans of the fortifications of San Francisco harbor and along the Pacific coast and to get, especially, details of the works at Bremerton navy yard. When he refused, Gorlicar is credited with saying he was transferred to Berlin where, after five months, he was ordered to proceed to Vienna. This he feared to do, because of his pro-Slavic affiliations, so he fled to Rome, where he resigned last December.

Alleged Spy System Described. Gorlicar contends that the German Ambassador, working with von Nuber, is in touch with the Austrian Consuls at Cleveland, St. Louis, Pittsburgh, St. Paul, Chicago and Philadelphia, who spread propaganda among the foreign workers in the munitions factories and such activity, Gorlicar alleges, extends even to controlling the foreigners through fraternal and secret organizations. The alleged extent of the activities of the Austrian Consuls and the so-called spy system are described at length in Gorlicar's published statement.

Gorlicar's record showed he first came to this country in 1900 and was Consul at Pittsburgh, Denver, and finally at San Francisco, where he served three years. Embassy Makes Statement. The Austro-Hungarian embassy issued the following statement:

"Ex-Consul Dr. Gorlicar, formerly at San Francisco, has been on leave of absence since the time of the outbreak of the war, and was temporarily attached for a time to the Austro-Hungarian consulate-general in Berlin, Germany. There, very soon afterward, he obtained knowledge that the Austro-Hungarian authorities had received information about his secret connections with the enemies of Austria-Hungary, and evidently fearing detection, he suddenly left his post without permission, and disappeared. Later on it was learned that he had gone to Italy and was staying in Rome, from where he tendered his resignation, thereby preventing his dismissal.

"While he was in Rome it was ascertained that he was in close relation with Russian and Serbian agents, obviously with the purpose of going to the United States to use his knowledge in the service of the Pan-Slavic propaganda and with the intention of disseminating disloyalty among our immigrants against their country of birth.

"The Austro-Hungarian Embassy has been informed that quite a number of southern Slavs from the monarchy have been enlisted by the agents of the allies, and have left this country to fight against the Austro-Hungarian army, a very probable fact that Dr. Gorlicar's subversive activity contributed to the very regrettable acts of treason, which, certainly without changing the outcome of the war, will be of the gravest consequences."

quence for those who may be made prisoners of war.

"The Austro-Hungarian Embassy was informed several months ago of Dr. Gorlicar's agitatory propaganda, carried on in this country, but it has refrained until now from taking counter measures, being aware of the disgrace brought about by the fact that a former consular officer has broken in such manner the faith and allegiance to his fatherland.

"In view, however, of his statements to the press, which contain the strongest accusations against the representatives of Austria-Hungary, the embassy must emphatically declare the accusations as false and absolutely baseless. Otherwise silence would be taken as acknowledgment and would create the belief that our consulate actually are engaged in activities in violation of the laws of this country."

St. Louis Consul Denies Story of Dr. Gorlicar.

Dr. John Schwegel, Consul in St. Louis for the Austro-Hungarian Government, when seen by a Post-Dispatch reporter, said Gorlicar's story was without fact and a pure invention. "Gorlicar is a man without honor or duty," he said. "He left the consular service of our Government at the beginning of the war. He is a Slav and like many others, thought that we could not win because of the numerous Powers arrayed against us. I, as did all the other consuls in the United States, received notice of his quitting and was warned not to give him the privileges of my office.

"I will not honor Gorlicar's story by calling it a lie. It is idiotic. I have heard anything to do with fomenting discord of any kind in this country nor planning the destruction of any property, for any cause, and if I were to suggest such measures to my Government, I am confident they would not permit me to use them."

"DON" FAMOUS TALKING DOG DIES IN HIS BIRTHPLACE

Could Imitate the Human Voice and Was Theater Drawing Card.

DRESDEN, Germany, Nov. 12.—"Don," the "speaking dog," who a few years ago made the rounds of American vaudeville theaters, and is said to have made more money for his owners than any dog ever had made, is dead. He died at a very old age, at his birthplace, near here, where he was taken when he ceased to be a theatrical drawing card. "Don" was the property of a forester named Ebers, who marveled at the animal's uncanny trick of imitating the human voice. Dr. Bossler, director of the Hamburg Zoological Garden, became interested in "Don" and finally was instrumental in getting a theatrical engagement for him. Eventually Ebers' daughter toured Austria-Hungary, Russia and finally the United States with the dog.

CHURCHILL HERE, SAYS U. S. MUST BE SECOND ON SEAS

Can Develop Military System Behind Great Naval Power, Novelist Declares.

Winston Churchill of Cornhill, N. H., noted novelist and native St. Louisan, and Mrs. Churchill, who was formerly Miss Mabel H. Hall of St. Louis, were the guests of Mrs. Penelope Orrick of the Oxford Apartments, 320 Union boulevard today. Tomorrow they will be at the home of Mr. and J. Lawrence Mauran, 46 Vandeventer place.

Churchill came here primarily to fill an engagement, made a year ago, for a talk before the Round Table Club. He will make this address at the St. Louis Club tomorrow night, speaking on the theme, "The Importance of Preserving American Traditions."

Sunday morning, he has promised to speak from the pulpit of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Lindell boulevard and Spring avenue, on "The Parallel between Christianity and Democracy."

In a talk with a Post-Dispatch reporter in A. C. Orrick's law office, Churchill expressed his views on the problem of American military preparedness, and on the present state of literature and the drama.

"There is no danger, in this country, of what is called militarism," he said. "We are not that sort. We have got everything we want, and more. America wants to be left alone, to work out its own civilization. But we must work out a system of defense, and one in harmony with democracy."

Should Be Second Naval Power. "The United States should be the second naval power. We should concentrate on that. Behind that shield, there is time to work out the best system of military organization, which must harmonize with our democratic institutions. That is a creative task."

"A military system for a democracy cannot be formed on the same lines as that for a monarchy. Unquestionably, it must have its origin in our schools and colleges. There the boy is, or should be, made conscious of the institutions and ideals of his Government, and they become dear enough to fight for, if necessary."

"The old volunteer idea that a General can be made out of a dogcatcher, if only he is an American, has not some rude jolts."

"In literature, this is a renaissance period. The war has stimulated democracy. Literature has all it can do to express the ideals of the present and to reflect the ever-changing life of times which are moving as rapidly as the cinematograph. Literature is no longer for the few, but it is for the many. Not that the standards should be lowered; they should be made more exacting. In such a time literary men become public men, as they did in our Civil War period and in Milton's time."

Near the Dawn is Drama. "In the drama, the present time is the darkness before the dawn, and there are streaks of light. Some writers are prostituting the drama, but on the whole, the spirit shown is promising, and a genuine effort is being made to reflect modern American life on the stage, and that that can't afford to be hypocritical. I haven't much patience with the highbrow attitude about anything. I try to look for the spirit behind. In cases where sincere efforts do not approach perfection very closely, we should remember the old dance-hall sign, 'Don't shoot the pianist; he's doing his best.' The man who honestly tries, and not the man who criticizes, is the valuable man."

Churchill has lately been in Canada, speaking in Ottawa and Toronto. He was greatly impressed with the spirit of loyalty to the British cause shown by all classes there. He said he had not ventured to indulge in prophecies on the outcome of the war, as it involved problems of "economics and attrition" which are almost beyond calculation.

HEIR TO $1,000,000 WHO WAS ENGAGED TO WED ENDS LIFE

Warren Peabody of Chicago Was Ill—Temporary Insanity, Inquest Verdict.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Warren M. Peabody, 21 years old, and a millionaire by inheritance, whose body was found last night in his home beside a vial which had contained poison, killed himself while temporarily insane, according to the verdict of a Coroner's jury today.

From the time the young man wore knickerbockers the idea of suicide seemed attractive to him, testified his mother, the widow of Hiram B. Peabody, a millionaire real estate operator.

"Was your son in love with or engaged to anyone?" Mrs. Peabody was asked.

"Yes," she replied, "and to the best of my knowledge they were on good terms."

Several notes written by the young man, who about two months ago came into possession of half of his father's estate of $1,000,000, were read at the inquest. They indicated that he was despondent over the condition of his health.

A letter purporting to be the young man's last word to his fiancée was given to the Deputy Coroner by the police. It read:

"I have gone. You must not look for me, for it will be useless. I love you. You must be brave. It won't be long. I will keep you warm and happy in the land of the great forest and the rolling prairies. I will always think of you and you will know. Warren."

"Please destroy."

Peabody recently was graduated from Johns Hopkins University and spent money lavishly in scientific research.

Memphis Girl Says She Was to Marry Peabody Next Tuesday.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 12.—Miss Louise Cary Anderson, 21 years old, said today that she was the fiancée of Warren M. Miss Anderson and Peabody met two years ago at Seawane, Tenn., and had been sweethearts ever since.

GERMANY SENDS RED CROSS DECORATIONS TO MRS. GERARD

Orders Conferred Upon Ambassador's Wife, John B. Jackson and George Barclay Rivers.

BERLIN, via London, Nov. 12.—The German Government yesterday sent to the American embassy Red Cross decorations of the first and second class for Mrs. James W. Gerard, wife of the American Ambassador, and of the second and third class for John B. Jackson, former Minister to the Balkan States, and George Barclay Rivers, who is now attached to the Berlin embassy.

The orders are conferred in recognition of work in connection with the American Red Cross mission and the arrangement for the Red Cross expedition to Russia to assist German prisoners there. This expedition of American surgeons and nurses has been unable to begin work.

STATE CONVICTS ROB FACTORY IN MISSOURI PRISON

Box of Trousers Shipped to St. Louis Leads to Arrest of Two Men Here.

A system of robbery which convicts in the Missouri penitentiary at Jefferson City were able to carry on notwithstanding their incarceration, was disclosed this morning when detectives arrested two men who had in their possession a box of trousers shipped from the D. M. Oberman Manufacturing Co., a penitentiary factory, to St. Louis.

Yesterday the police received a letter from the Oberman company stating that the company had not been robbed in a manner which had not been discovered. The police were asked to watch a box of trousers which was shipped to "E. Mills, 729 Lindenwood avenue, St. Louis."

Detectives this morning went to the Missouri Pacific freight depot at Seventh and Cerre streets and found the box. Soon afterward a man recepted for it and hired an expressman to haul it away.

Two Men Arrested. The detectives followed it to the McKinley freight station, Eleventh street and Lucas avenue. They then arrested Frank Beckett, 25 years old, of 2111 Illinois avenue, Granite City, who had recepted for the box, and the expressman, Meyer Katz, 32, of 215 Thomas street.

Beckett told the police that his brother, George, was in the penitentiary. He said that several days ago he received a letter from Joseph Baird, who is serving a penitentiary sentence from Kansas City for burglary, stating that he (Beckett) had been selected as a "wise young man," and that a trial box was being sent to him. The letter, he said, stated that if he disposed of the goods in a proper manner others would be sent to him.

He said he was supplied with a list of persons to whom he could sell the trousers, and that the letter said that directions would be sent to him explaining how to send to the convicts their parts of the proceeds of the sales.

The police were informed from Jefferson City that the "Mills" order was found on a spike in the Oberman company's office, and that the Jefferson City Chief of Police, who had been investigating robberies of the company, recognized the address as a residence district, and not a wholesale clothing district. This suspicion caused the company to ask that the box be traced.

Beckett said that the Lindenwood avenue address was the former residence of his sister. Katz denied that he knew Beckett or that he knew the goods were stolen.

EVENTUAL ERADICATION OF PELLAGRA IS PREDICTED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Discovery of the cause of and cure for pellagra is announced formally by the Public Health Service.

"The spread of this dread malady may now be checked and eventually eradicated," says a Government statement. "It is estimated that 75,000 cases of the disease will have occurred in the United States in 1915, and of this number at least 700 will have died before the end of the year."

YOUNG WOMAN WHO WAS WED IN SECRET

MRS. BAARENT TEN BROEK JR.

PARENT TEN BROEK JR., WED IN SECRET, TO CALL ON FATHER

Candy Manufacturer's Son Elopel With Another Young Woman 3 Years Ago, but Marriage Was Prevented.

Baarent Ten Broek Jr., son of a wealthy candy manufacturer of 229 Olive street, who Wednesday night secretly married Miss Grace Leone Archey, 19 years old, daughter of James E. Archey of 2111 Theodosia avenue, a policeman, intends to call on his parents with his bride today and ask for their blessing. The couple are living with the bride's parents.

The elder Ten Broek yesterday refused to make any comment upon the marriage further than to say that his son was of age and could do as he pleased.

Three years ago young Ten Broek eloped with Miss Margaret Rubelmann of Overland Park, but their marriage plans were frustrated by his parents. Miss Rubelmann was married to another man several months ago.

NICHOLAS E. CANTILLON DIES

Former Proprietor of Edelweiss Saloon in East St. Louis.

Nicholas E. Cantillon, 40 years old, former proprietor of the Edelweiss saloon in East St. Louis, died at Alexian Brothers Hospital, yesterday, after suffering nearly two years from paresis and locomotor ataxia. After the Edelweiss burned in 1912, Cantillon was indicted on an arson charge but, because of his health, the case was still pending when he died.

Cantillon was born on the site of his saloon, on Collinsville avenue, opposite the Arcade. Ruth Harris, piano player in his cafe, known to frequenters as "Salome," was indicted with Cantillon, Assistant State's Attorney Gustin today said Cantillon's death probably would cause the charge against the woman to be dropped.

Gen. Villareal Indicted in Texas. LAREDO, Tex., Nov. 12.—Gen. Gerónimo Villareal, commander of the garrison at Nuevo Laredo, during the Huerta regime, was indicted by a United States grand jury here last night for bringing women into this country for immoral purposes.

Character Testimony was given by Mrs. Otto Scudder Mersman of 71 Vandeventer place, Alfred B. Carr and George T. Tower 3.

ARTILLERY FAILS AGAINST DVINSK SAND FORTRESS

Germans Take It 15 Times in Month but Can't Hold It; Sand Smothers Shells.

By Associated Press. BERLIN, Nov. 12.—The difficulties of the army besieging Dvinsk, because of the nature of the fortress, which is built of sand, are pictured by Capt. von Neuschuetzky, correspondent of the Vossische Zeitung.

"Had it been of rock," he said, "it would have been knocked to pieces long ago, but an artillery bombardment is of little avail against a sand fortress."

"It was captured 15 times between Sept. 15 and Oct. 18, and still is not in the German possession. It has been reduced in size one-half without affecting the strength of the remainder."

"Every rod of land is covered with permanent trenches roofed securely against shrapnel and shell fragments and connected with so-called 'fox holes,' small shelters, where the marines are secure against the heaviest shells."

"Exploding projectiles are smothered in the sand trenches, which are skillfully laid out so that they are mutually flanking."

"An apparently successful attack often means the destruction of the assailants by the flanking fire of machine guns. One company thus lost 61 dead on Oct. 23."

MRS. S. K. D. WALSH'S DIVORCE SUIT TAKEN UNDER ADVISEMENT

Case Is Heard by Judge Arnold With Neither of the Principals in Court.

When testimony was taken in Judge Arnold's Court in the divorce suit of Mrs. Jessie Kehlor Walsh of 14 Hortense place against Charles K. Dickman Walsh, neither Mrs. Walsh nor her husband was in court. Judge Arnold took the case under advisement.

Mrs. Walsh had gone east on account of a nervous breakdown. Her deposition was read. She told of the marriage on Dec. 2, 1897, and the separation in July, 1914. When, she said, her husband left their home at 14 Hortense place and did not return.

Character testimony was given by Mrs. Otto Scudder Mersman of 71 Vandeventer place, Alfred B. Carr and George T. Tower 3.

Bran Acts as a Broom

Bran is termed "Nature's Laxative." Its roughness serves to sweep. The bran way is the best way to relieve and prevent constipation. Ask your physician.

Everyone needs a certain amount of "roughage," the same as animals. In most modern foods the bran has been removed. Hence, sallow, constipated people.

You should supply your family with this element which their foods lack. A little bran each day will keep you and them well.

Kellogg's Bran (COOKED)

is an improved bran.

Kellogg's Bran is steam-cooked and sealed in a wax-wrapped package.

The cooking makes the bran taste better. It is much more palatable than raw bran. So good in fact, that you can serve it from the package with cream and sugar instead of having to go to the bother of preparing it in bread, muffins, etc., as is necessary with raw bran.

It costs about a half cent a day to keep well with this improved bran.

Order it today of your grocer.

McCALL'S OUSTER FROM NEW YORK OFFICE ADVISED

Investigators of Public Service Commission Find Against Chairman.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—State Senator Thompson, chairman of a legislative committee engaged in investigating the Public Service Commission, announced today that the committee would recommend to Gov. Whitman the summary dismissal of Edward E. McCall, chairman of the commission of this district.

Chief of the reasons, Senator Thompson said, were the revelations recently made by him on the witness stand concerning the ownership of stock in the Kings County Light and Power Co., a corporation whose activities are, to some degree, under the supervision of the commission.

McCall testified that he had purchased the stock on margin prior to his appointment and about 10 days before he became a member of the commission transferred it to his wife. He was unable to produce a written record of the transfer.

McCall was appointed by Gov. Sulzer early in 1914. He resigned from the State Supreme Court to accept the position. In the fall of 1913 he was the Democratic candidate for Mayor of New York, but was defeated by John Purroy Mitchell, the fusion nominee.

Shortly after Gov. Whitman assumed office, McCall and his associates were the subject of a legislative investigation, which resulted in the submission of both majority and minority reports.

TEXAS NEGRO PASTOR HERE TO GET AID FOR AN ORPHANAGE

Needs $20,000 for Settlement of Dickson Institution at Gilmer.

The Rev. W. L. Dickson, president of the Dickson Colored Orphanage, Gilmer, Tex., is in St. Louis trying to raise a part of an $80,000 fund for the orphanage of the institution. He will speak tonight at the Central Baptist Church, Washington and Bwing avenues, Sunday morning at the A. M. E. Church, Lawton and Lexington avenues, and Sunday night at the A. M. E. Church, 3423 Morgan street. His temporary address is 1713 Morgan street.

In speaking to those of his own race, Dickson is advising them to "segregate themselves," as he puts it, in order to avoid the sort of segregation which is proposed in a pending measure of legislation. He tells the negroes that they must show their race pride by seeking to educate and improve the members of their race, and not by seeking social equality with the whites.

The worst enemies of the negro race, he declares, are those negroes who live on terms of social association with a degraded class of whites, as in the South State street district of Chicago.

Dickson expects later to speak in white churches here. He says white churches throughout Texas have been opened to him, not on a basis of social recognition, but because the white people sympathize with his efforts to improve his race.

He says his institution has property valued at $124,875, and accommodates about 300 orphans, without sectarian or sectional restrictions. Three children were recently sent from St. Louis. The institution makes a specialty of training skilled cooks, and girls so trained are sent to white families which promise to give them rooms in their homes, and to exercise moral supervision over them. He hopes to enlarge the institution to accommodate 1,000 children, adding a domestic science building, a boys' dormitory, library, chapel and laundry.

ADDRESS BY SHALER MATHEWS

Chicago Theologian to Be at Second Baptist Church Sunday.

The Rev. Dr. Shaler Mathews, dean of the Theological school of the University of Chicago, will speak in the Second Baptist Church Sunday morning at 10 a. m. on "Japan and Its Relations to the Extension of Christianity." He will also speak at the special service celebrating the tenth year of ministry of the pastor, the Rev. William C. Bittling.

Dr. Mathews is the president of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, an organization comprising 31 religious denominations, and nearly 20,000,000 communicants. He was sent to Japan by this organization to convey to that nation the Christian greetings of the Federal Council.

DEFEAT FOR TRINITY RECTOR

New York Delegate to Episcopal Convention in St. Louis Named.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—For the first time in the history of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of New York, Trinity Parish will not be represented by its rector at the general convention to be held in St. Louis in 1916. Dr. William T. Manning, the rector, was defeated for reelection, Dr. Ernest M. Stiles, rector of St. Thomas, being chosen.

There was no open demonstration on the floor of the annual diocesan convention at the spread houses of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine yesterday, but there were differences between the Anglican and the Low Church elements, with the Manning leader of the Anglicans, on the center of attack.

CITIZENSHIP RIGHTS OF WOMEN WHO WED FOREIGNERS TESTED

California Woman Whose British Husband Resides in England Not Allowed to Register.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Citizenship rights of American women who marry foreigners but who continue to live in the United States was placed today before the Supreme Court for decision. Emphasis was laid on the importance of the case because of the war, and particularly in case of women traveling at sea.

Mrs. Ethel C. Mackenzie of California, wife of Gordon Mackenzie, a British subject, who has resided in California ever since his marriage, attacks the attempt to make applicable to her the expatriation act passed by Congress in 1907.

Election officials in San Francisco refused to permit Mrs. Mackenzie to register on the ground that she had become a British subject by reason of her marriage. Writes to compel officials to permit her to register were denied. She then appealed to the Federal Supreme Court.

Brother Kills Wife and Self.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—H. Carl Ruppert, a real estate and bond broker of Richmond, Va., shot and killed his wife and then killed himself in an upstairs hotel yesterday. From a diary left by Ruppert, the police learned the couple had frequent quarrels.

GIRLS! HAVE LOTS OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR AND NO DANDRUFF

Hair becomes charming, wavy, lustrous and thick in few moments. Every bit of dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

For 25 cents you can save your hair. In less than ten minutes you can double its beauty. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and charming as a young girl's after applying some Danderine. Also try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.—ADV.

FOUR MINISTERS DEFEND BRITISH WAR POLICIES

Debate Marked by New and Vigorous Denial by Premier That Kitchener Resigned.

CRITICS HAVE AN INNING

One Speaker Urges That Some of Army Leaders Including Sir John French, Be Turned Out.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Premier Asquith's positive denial that Lord Kitchener, Secretary of State for War, had resigned or offered his resignation, made last night in the course of debate in the House of Commons, is expected to allay public unrest and put an end to the series of rumors concerning his position. The Premier said:

"Lord Kitchener never tendered his resignation either to the King or myself, the only two persons to whom he could have tendered it. Lord Kitchener never breathed a word of resignation to either."

"The Cabinet decided on Nov. 4 to send Lord Kitchener to the Near East, the Premier added. Serious information which led the Government to take this step was brought to the members of the Cabinet for the first time on the preceding day."

"The Home Secretary, Sir John Simon, said that the Globe newspaper, and the Globe alone, published the statement that Lord Kitchener had resigned because he had quarreled with his colleagues. When a denial was issued, the Globe repeated the statement, thus saying in effect that the Government was lying."

"It was the bounden duty of the Government under the circumstances," Sir John Simon said, "to correct that false impression and prevent further circulation of the lie in the most summary and direct way. If a paper would not listen to the Government warning in a crisis such as this, it must listen when the Government acted. If the proprietors thought they had ground for action, the Government would offer every facility for having these proceedings accelerated."

"The Home Secretary said that the length of time the Globe would remain under suspension depended on the attitude which the paper thought proper to take for what it had done. Other papers had not been treated the same, as the Globe because their offenses were not so serious, but if the Government found from this time forward any newspaper, be it small or great, making false statements which were obviously prejudicial to the public interests, they would be treated as the Globe had been treated."

Kitchener Is Criticized. Arthur Lynch, Nationalist member for West Clare, asserted Lord Kitchener had blundered in not moving to the defense of Liege, on the question of munitions and in his policy toward Serbia.

"The blunder in the Dardanelles," he declared, "was at least a blunder of a man who meant to do something."

He said the men were good, the munitions were good, but the war was being conducted with incompetence and 70 per cent of the higher commanders, beginning with Field Marshal French, should be sent away. Leadership and direction were lacking.

Arthur J. Balfour, First Lord of the Admiralty, told of the building of numerous air craft for the defense of London. He asserted that coast defenses were of prime importance and they were being strengthened as rapidly as appliances could be obtained.

Replying to Mr. Lynch, Mr. Balfour said there might be instances where not every man in high command was the best, but nothing could be gained by such a speech as Lynch made, for it merely suggested that men now in service should be turned out and some unspecified persons put in. He deplored broadcast criticism of the soldiers and reckless attacks on the diplomatic service.

Mr. Balfour said he would not reply to criticisms on the conduct of the war on the ground that all criticism "until after the war is over, and indeed, long after would be a matter almost impossible to deal with because the facts are not and cannot be known."

Arthur A. Ponsonby, Liberal, said that after the war the Foreign Office would have to be cleared out from top to bottom.

Mr. Edward Grey, Foreign Secretary, explained that he offered to resign at the time Viscount Haldane left the Cabinet and was succeeded by Baron Buckmaster as Lord High Chancellor. Both he and Premier Asquith defended Haldane, the Premier saying: "He rendered an invaluable service when in the War Office."

Premier Defends Churchill. When asked to lay on the table the papers in the Antwerp expedition the Premier declined while the war was in progress and added that Mr. Churchill, former First Lord of the Admiralty, "has a good record and will be amply justified when the full story is told."

Mr. Edward Grey, discussing Serbia, said good will had not been wanting and cited the offer to send 100,000 troops to Saloniki to help Greece carry out treaty obligations to Serbia. He said this undertaking was in progress when Greece changed her mind.

Before adjournment the House agreed to vote a credit of $60,000,000 ($2,000,000 asked for by Premier Asquith).

The discussion in the House of Lords was in behalf of greater economy. Earl Aldwin, former Chancellor of the Exchequer, Baron Sydenham, the Duke of Devonshire, Civil Lord of the Admiralty and the Earl of Salisbury, president of the Board of Agriculture, spoke.

Interest in the new War Committee, the composition of which was announced yesterday, centred today in the fact that Sir Edward Grey, whose name had been mentioned frequently in that connection, was not made a member of it. The committee, which will act in the temporary absence of Mr. Asquith, is made up of Premier Asquith, Arthur J. Balfour, First Lord of the Admiralty; David Lloyd-George, Minister of Munitions; Andrew Bonar Law, Secretary for the Colonies; and Reginald McKenna, Chancellor of the Exchequer.

'MEAN' DETECTIVES SPOIL GIRL'S SCHEME TO 'REFORM' A BURGLAR

Viola Boehm Who Said She Would Marry Kansas City Prisoner Recognized as Shoplifter.

Viola Boehm, 19 years old, of 2628 South Twelfth street, went to Kansas City in an effort to bring about the freedom of Thomas King, who was charged with burglary. She told Judge Latschaw that she was engaged to marry the prisoner, and wanted to reform him. She said that it was his first offense, and begged that he be paroled into her custody.

The romantic plot was spoiled by two St. Louis detectives who went to Kansas City to testify that King had served time for previous burglaries.

They recognized her as a lifter, who had been convicted twice of stealing in St. Louis department stores. Incidentally the girl recognized the detectives, and disappeared. King got two years.

TIME FUSE IN BRITISH SUGAR SHIP WHICH CAUGHT FIRE

Examination of Cargo of Rio Lago Being Made at Halifax in Search for Bombs.

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 12.—Pieces of the time fuse found in No. 2 hold of the British steamer Rio Lago, which put in here last week with a portion of her cargo of sugar on fire, were today distributed among local officials. Capt. Neil Hall, port warden, taking the main part of the fuse for further examination.

The fuse is composed of a compound of leather and rubber and part of it, about a foot long, was discovered by stewards. It is believed that the fuse extended almost from the top of the hold to the bottom and more of it is expected to be found.

In order to make sure that no bombs were placed in the other parts of the steamer, the hold of the other holds will be taken off and an examination of the upper portion of the cargo made.

On the morning of Nov. 11, the ship was taken to the bottom and more of it is expected to be found.

Do You Know the Real Food Value of Spaghetti?

When you talk about buying ten cents' worth of spaghetti, you mean a "worth" of what? Do you mean a "worth" of the only measure of genuine worth in the purchase of staples must be nutrition? But do you know nutrition in mind when you buy the family provisions? Let us see.

Meat is probably your biggest item. Yet no less an authority than Dr. Hutchison, the dietitian, says that meat is a dear food. Why? Because we pay far too much for the amount of nutrition that we secure. Meat contains 75 per cent water—think of that, when you are chafed up at $30 a lb.—three-quarters water!

Now, take Faust Spaghetti made from durum wheat, a rich, glutinous cereal. Of spaghetti and its allied products, the same authority says that they contain only 10 per cent water, and these foods are absorbed almost in their entirety—go to make blood, muscle and tissue. Faust Spaghetti costs 10c a large package—nearly all worth.

OLD FOLKS NEED "CASCARETS" FOR LIVER AND BOWELS

Salts, calomel, pills act on bowels like pepper acts in nostrils. Enjoy life! Don't stay bilious, sick, headachy and constipated.

Most old people must give to the bowels some regular help, else they suffer from constipation. The condition is perfectly natural. It is just as natural as it is for old people to walk slowly. For age is never so active as youth. The muscles are less elastic. And the bowels are muscles.

So all old people need Cascarets. One might well refuse to add weak eyes with glasses as to neglect this gentle aid to weak bowels. The bowels must be kept active. This is important at all ages, but never so much as at fifty.

Age is not a time for harsh physics. Youth may occasionally whip the bowels into activity. But a lax can't be used every day. What the bowels of the old need is a gentle and natural tonic. One that can be constantly used without harm. The only such tonic is Cascarets, and they cost only 10 cents per box at any drug store—ADV.

NEW SUBMARINES FIRE 2 TORPEDOES AT SAME TIME

German Cruiser in Baltic Victim of Undersea Craft With New Device.

Special Correspondence of the Post-Dispatch

LONDON, Nov. 1.—Germany is now having an opportunity of appreciating in the Baltic what the new types of British submarines can do. The official German account of the sinking of the cruiser Prince Adalbert stated that two torpedoes were fired at and struck her at the same time, showing that the new British submarines are able to fire two torpedoes abreast. This, however, is only one of the improvements in the British submarines that have been launched since the war and are still being built. Their range is enormously large. They are more quickly submersible. They stay out for twice the length of time claimed for the biggest German submarine craft. Their speed, both on and under the water, is substantially increased. They carry heavier guns and more ammunition.

At the Walker yards on the Tyne is a new battleship, an improved and more powerful Queen Elizabeth. She is being made ready to leave in a couple of days for her trials. Her 15-inch guns can be fired with greater rapidity than those of any other battleship.

This ship has been completed, armed and equipped in a period so short that it would have been deemed impossible before the war.

All the ways at the yards are occupied by war vessels. Among them is a battle cruiser, which in point of speed and armament far exceeds any that has yet been floated. Her design was decided on in January and she is now ready for launching.

E. H. Benoit, formerly real estate officer of the Mississippi Valley Trust Co., yesterday was appointed by State Bank Commissioner Mitchell a special deputy commissioner to take charge of the affairs of the closed Broadway Bank.

Benoit will manage the liquidation of the bank. W. M. Fitch, former Assistant Attorney-General, was appointed special counsel for the bank.

STANLEY'S ELECTION CONCEDED

Democrat Governor of Kentucky by 300 Plurality—No Contest.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 12.—The election of former Congressman Augustus O. Stanley of Henderson, Democrat, as Governor of Kentucky, is conceded in a statement issued by Edwin P. Morrow of Somerset, Republican gubernatorial candidate in the election of Nov. 2. Morrow also set at rest rumors that the Republicans might contest the election of Stanley before the Legislature.

Returns from the 120 counties in the State showed a plurality for Stanley of slightly more than 300 votes.

DR. JORDAN TELLS PRESIDENT OF PLAN TO FORWARD PEACE

Says Quasi-Official Meeting of Neutral Nations May Be Held Before Christmas.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—David Starr Jordan, chancellor of Leland Stanford University and head of the International Peace Congress, recently held in San Francisco, told President Wilson today that a quasi-official meeting of neutral nations probably would be held some time before Christmas, either at The Hague, Berne or Copenhagen to attempt to bring about peace in Europe.

Dr. Jordan conveyed to the President a resolution from the Peace Congress, urging him to co-operate with other neutrals in calling such a conference.

In a statement laid before the President by Dr. Jordan, it was declared that, as a result of recent missions to the Governments of the warring nations, it could be stated that, while the nations at war were not willing themselves to begin negotiations for peace, "there is nevertheless abundant evidence that those charged with the administration of the foreign policies of these nations would welcome or at least not oppose affirmative action by a neutral agency to bring about a peace based on international justice."

Dr. Jordan said peace advocates had learned from unofficial sources in Holland, Sweden, Switzerland, Denmark and Spain that those countries would be glad to take part in any movement to further the cause of peace.

Much of the information communicated to the President by Dr. Jordan was gathered by Miss Jane Addams and her companions on their visit to Europe as representatives of the Women's Peace Congress.

Dr. Jordan took the position that it would be more natural for the European neutrals to invite the United States to participate in the peace conference than for the United States to issue the invitation. He said that an unofficial meeting of peace advocates at Berne, Dec. 14, at which plans for bringing about peace will be discussed, would be attended by people from the United States.

The idea of the quasi-official peace conference is that it would constitute a voluntary court of continuous mediation, would invite suggestions for settlement from each of the warring nations, and, in any case, would submit simultaneously to all of them reasonable proposals as a basis for peace.

Dr. Jordan did not reveal what President Wilson said to him, but the President several times has taken the position that he will be glad to do anything of a practical nature to end the war.

The Christmas season is the natural time to talk peace, Dr. Jordan declared, and, therefore, he is expecting the plans of the peace advocates to take definite form about that time.

LAST CIVIL WAR VETERAN IN ACTIVE ARMY LISTS TO RETIRE

Maj.-Gen. Carter, Commandant of Hawaii Department, Was Dispatch Bearer in 1864.

HONOLULU, Nov. 12.—Major-General William Harding Carter, commandant of the Hawaiian Department, the last man in active service of the United States Army who served in the Civil War, will retire next Friday.

Gen. Carter, who served as a dispatch bearer in 1864 and 1865, at the age of 12, retired because of the age limit, and will be succeeded by Brigadier-General John P. Wissler.

Major-General Carter, after the Civil War, went to West Point Military Academy, was graduated, served through 25 years of Indian warfare in the West and was in command in the Philippines in 1904 and 1905.

SENATE OF HAITI APPROVES TREATY WITH UNITED STATES

Virtual American Protectorate Over Country Provided For—Vote Was 28 to 7.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The State Department received official word today that the Senate of Haiti had approved the treaty with the United States, providing for a virtual American protectorate over the country. The vote, as conveyed to the State Department, was 28 to 7.

Secretary Lansing immediately notified President Wilson of the vote. The treaty will go before the United States Senate at the coming session of Congress.

KIKADO DECORATES WOMAN

Order of Sacred Treasure Conferred on Head of Temperance Society.

KIOTO, Nov. 12.—Among the persons decorated by the Emperor in honor of his coronation are several Japanese Christians, including Yasuko Harada, editor of the Christian World; Sakumoto Motoda, head master of St. Paul's College at Tokyo, and one woman, Kajiya Yajima, president of the Japanese Christian Women's Temperance Society. "were decorated with the Order of the Sacred Treasure."

Diplomatic envoys, foreigners and Japanese witnessed today a picturesque pageant of old Japan beginning with the eighth century.

"48 SHIPS OF LINE BY 1920"

United League Club of New York Strongly For Defense Plans.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The United League Club, at a meeting last night, over which Edwin Root presided, pledged itself to lend its full support to bringing about the adoption of a system of universal compulsory military service. Without a voice raised in protest, resolutions were adopted which would legalize conscription and call for a minimum of 48 ships of the first line by 1920.

New Treatment for Bronchitis, Asthma, Catarrh and Head Colds

Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Salve Relieves by Inhalation and Absorption. No Dosing.

No need to take internal medicine or habit-forming drugs for these troubles. When Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Salve is applied to the heat of the body, soothing, medicated vapors are released that are inhaled all night long through the air passages to the lungs. In addition, Vick's is absorbed through the skin, relieving the tightness and soreness. Vick's can be applied over the throat and chest and covered with a warm flannel cloth—or a little put up the nostrils—or mass a little in a spoon and inhale the vapors arising. Also for Asthma and Hay Fever, rub Vick's well over the spinal column to relax the nervous tension. 25c, 50c or $1.00.—ADV.

More Cash in Lowered Salaries.
FINE BLUFF, Ark., Nov. 12.—With salaries reduced about 10 per cent, city employees draw more actual cash than heretofore, owing to change from scrip to cash basis. The scrip matured in from 24 to 28 months and could be cashed only at a discount of about 20 per cent. Hereafter they are to be paid in cash on a lowered salary basis, for which the city borrowed $40,000.

AERIAL WARSHIPS BEING ORGANIZED LIKE SEA FLEETS

Six Scout Aeros, 2 Armed Cruisers and One Battle Plane
Form Squadron Unit.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.
PARIS, Oct. 25.—Now that France has developed an aerial force with battle-planes, cruiser-planes, scout and lesser aircraft, which the officers refer to as torpedo-planes, it has been necessary to organize this overhead service with the same exactness of details with which armies and fleets are organized, with tactics and maneuvers of advance and retreat, attack and defense. Unlike an army or fleet, which can move only parallel with the surface of the earth or water, a fleet of air warships can move in any direction, upward, downward, forward or backward and at any oblique.

All of these tactics of the air are now being worked out with precision. Already the official reports refer almost daily to the maneuvers of an "esquadron," which is the French term for a squadron of air-fighters, and soon there will be mention of the advance or retreat of the "right wing" or "left wing" of these squadrons, as the tactics provide for the assembling of several "esquadrons" into fleets, which can be increased in size almost indefinitely. H. G. Wells, the English novelist, suggested the deadly effect of 100 aeroplanes hovering over Berlin and dropping bombs. The number and maneuver was at the time regarded as fantastic. But the organization of squadrons and fleets of battle-planes and cruisers, brings this measurably within realization, and already an attack has been made with 68 aeroplanes, two with more than 40 and five with from 30 to 40 air fighters.

Formation of an Esquadron.
The "esquadron," which is the unit of the aerial organization, at first consisted of six aeroplanes. But the rapid development of fighting types changed the organization so that the "esquadron" is now made up virtually as follows:

Six scout aeros (avions d'observation).
Two armed cruiser-aeros with 3-inch guns (avions de chasse).
One battle-plane with two 3-inch guns and one mitrailleuse (avion de combat).

Nine lorries, nine trailers, nine portable canvas aero sheds, three autos. There is one lorry and trailer and one shed for each of the fighting craft, so as to transport it rapidly to any point and house it until needed. The autos are for the commanding officers, and to follow up the flyers when possible. Gasoline, tools, supplies, etc., are carried on the lorries.

The "esquadron," thus made up, is commanded by a commissioned officer of the army, who acts as pilot of the squadron. Commissioned officers also operate the fighting and cruising aeros, with expert noncommissioned officers and soldiers for the lesser craft. Including the soldiers on the lorries, trailers, etc., an "esquadron" has a complement of upward of 70 officers and men, of which, however, only a dozen or so are actual flyers.

Two 3-inch Guns on Battle Plane.
Rene Bernard, the newly designated Secretary of State for Aviation, has recently given opportunity for the inspection of the new types of air fighters. The battleplane (avion de combat) and the cruiserplane (avion de chasse) are the two main developments.

Only partial descriptions of these craft is permitted; nothing can be stated as to the number of planes of the monster battleplane. But it is permitted to indicate its power by saying that it has carried 12 men in its flights, and that it mounts on its huge outstretched wings two 3-inch cannons, one at either tip, with a rapid-fire mitrailleuse in the middle, just above the pilot. The recoil of the cannon does not jar the craft, owing to an automatic device, explanation of which is not permissible.

The other type, cruiser-aeros, or avions de chasse, mount one 3-inch cannon in the middle and just ahead of the pilot. These cruisers can mount almost straight up from the ground, at the rate of about 2000 meters in two minutes, so that they can go straight up to an enemy as soon as he is observed, instead of mounting slowly on long curves as of old.

10,000 for 125 Miles an Hour.
But France is not stopping with these new devices. Her engineers and constructors are inspired with the thought of a rich prize of 50,000 francs ($10,000) for a still further advance, which will realize 200 kilometers (125 miles) an hour with four motors, two pushing and two pulling.

The "esquadron" or squadron is only the unit of organization, and it is in assembling them that the real fighting maneuvers are accomplished. The directing head of the organization is here in Paris, connected with the Ministry of War. Here all the orders are given and the service regulated.

The machines themselves are at aerodromes scattered all over France, the names of these places being withheld from mention. Here they are gathered in hundreds and given their final tests before going to the fighting line. But it is on the fighting line that the real maneuvers begin. The aero-parks for actual service are a short distance in rear of the fighting forces, each park at the front being made up of four "esquadrons." So that, as each "esquadron" has nine aeros of various types, the four "esquadrons" of one form, the four "esquadrons" of another form, comprise 36 aeros, including battleplanes, cruiserplanes and scout-planes.

Bombs Dropped With Precision.
In turn these parks back of the line are connected, so that these equipment of 36 machines in each can be rapidly brought together for a concerted attack or defense. As these parks stretch from end to end of the long battle line their number and aggregate of aircraft must be very large. As stated, the concentrations of 36 fighting craft have already been carried out, and much larger concentrations are in view.

The fighting tactics have developed a number of interesting phases. It is a strange fact that one of the most useful devices has resulted from the capture of an enemy aero. This brought to light a fine instrument of precision, made by a well-known optical firm of Berlin. The instrument records with exactness the moment and place when an aeroplane is precisely vertical above a given point on the ground below. That is, there is no trusting to the eye, and when the instrument shows the vertical point—as, for example, an enemy battery below—a bomb dropped from the aeroplane is certain to hit that exact point. It is, in fact, an aerial range-finder, showing the exact moment when a bomb will strike a given spot. Another strange device used in these battle tactics is a battery of 12 small glass bottles, set in a wire rack within easy reach of the operator. The operator fires over the enemy's lines, the purpose being to signal back to his own batteries how their shots are taking effect, thus giving them the exact range. The little glass bottles contain a liquid which explodes five seconds after the cork is drawn, emitting a little round puff of smoke, or a short trail of smoke.

This is aerial telegraphing. The smoke-puffs are dots; the smoke-trails are dashes. Thus the pilot talks back to the far-away battery, in dots and dashes of smoke, telling the watchers that their shots are too high, or too low, or too far to the left or right, and thus giving them the exact range.

Convict Escapes Second Time.
NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 12.—Charles A. Stone, held for authorities of Sing Sing Prison, from which he escaped last December while serving a sentence of 21 years for robbery, sawed his way out of the parish prison here yesterday.

$10,000 DAMAGE CASE SHUFFLED AROUND COURTS

New Rules to Expedite Hearings
Fails to Work in the Case of William McHale.

DELAY SINCE WEDNESDAY

Change of Venue Taken and Judge Refuses to Try It on Two Reassignments.

William McHale is finding out that the new Circuit Court rules do not expedite disposal of litigation as much as they are supposed to. He and his lawyer, George Safford, and a dozen witnesses have been sticking pretty close to the courthouse since Wednesday, trying to get a trial of his case against the E. C. Gerhard Building Co. for $10,000 damages for an injury received when he was struck on the head by a falling scappling.

Under the new rules all cases go first to the assignment court, presided over by Judge Taylor, and are listed for trial and sent to the judge who is first ready. McHale's case was listed for this week. Wednesday it was sent to Judge Anderson. Safford had a tiff with Judge Anderson not long ago and did not want him to try the case, so he took a change of venue. That sent it back to the assignment court.

Yesterday the case was sent to Judge Kimmel. When he learned that it would take three or four days to try it, which would carry it over into next week, he refused it and asked that another be sent to him.

This morning Judge Taylor again sent the case to Judge Kimmel and he again refused it. About this time Safford made some remarks out of court that would not be allowed to remain in any official court records. Judge Taylor then sent the case to Judge Jones, who was in the midst of a trial, but promised to take it up this afternoon.

Judge Taylor said the only way he could compel Judge Kimmel to take the case was to mandamus him and he did not want to do that.

ANYONE HERE WANT TO BUY SOME DIAMOND RATTLESNAKES?

Arkansas Man Knows Where There is a Lot of Them. Rabbits Offered.

If anybody in St. Louis would like to own some diamond rattlesnakes, he should apply to the Business Men's League. The league this morning received this letter:

"Dear Sir: I would like to know where there is a diamond rattlesnake firm. I know where there is a lot of them. I am sure would be proud if you could direct me to a firm some place. I want to get the price list of them. It might be a great deal to me. So, I will be looking for an ans. of some kind, soon as possible. So, by Bert Livingston, Lonsdale, Ark."

Livingston was directed to write to George Diekmann, president of the Zoo. Louis H. Brennecke of Millerville, Mo., has offered through the league to supply St. Louis with a dozen rabbits and six possums a week by parcel post—rabbits at 15 cents each, small possums, 20 cents, and full grown ones 40 cents, postage prepaid.

ROBBERS ATTACK GIRL IN STORE, FRIGHTENED AWAY

Customer Comes in, Runs Out and Introduces. Leave Place in a Hurry.

Miss Emma Hutzfeld, clerk in the novelty store and subpostoffice conducted by her brother, F. A. Hutzfeld, at 1641 South Jefferson avenue, was attacked this morning by two young men who entered the place and asked to see drinking cups. The taller of the two men, Miss Hutzfeld down, and attempted to hold one hand over her mouth while the other man ran to the safe, which contained about $50 in stamps and $10 in cash.

Miss Hutzfeld screamed. A man entered the store, saw robbers, and fled. The robbers became frightened and escaped without any booty.

MIKADO THANKS PRESIDENT

Replies to Message Pledging Him on Accession to Throne.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—President Wilson today received a message from the Emperor of Japan thanking him for his congratulations on the accession of the Mikado to the throne. The Emperor's message follows:

"I sincerely thank you for the kind congratulations on the ceremonies of my accession to the throne. At the same time I reciprocate my best wishes for your personal welfare and the inviolability of the friendship which is united by the bond of amicable relations between our two countries."

Child Who at 13 Is an Educational Wonder Has Ambition to Be a Cowboy and an Editor Mother Tells How She Taught Winifred Stoner

She Outlines to Marguerite Martyn Her Method of Turning Girl's Lessons Into Games and of Directing Her Natural Instincts—Dictionary, Encyclopedia and Typewriter Were Instructor's Chief Aids.

By Marguerite Martyn.

"WHY wait until your child has passed the most impressionable period of its mental development, which is before 12 years of age, to begin to think of its serious education?"

"Why wait until your child has reached the dreamy, adolescent period, when its brain has to be prodded to endeavor to begin its college course? By that time it ought to have a good, workable, university course stowed away in its memory."

"Why not utilize that insatiable curiosity with which the normal child is endowed, answer its questions constructively instead of destructively, so that it may have a store of information when it arrives at the age of reason?"

"Why not teach it another useful language at the beginning, since the average child learns two languages—your own and baby talk?"

Such questions, propounded by Mrs. Winifred Sackville Stoner, and aimed at our regularly accepted system of education, do seem to penetrate certain loopholes of that structure. And Mrs. Stoner's whole theory would demolish existing systems, inasmuch as she would do away with school-houses, text books, examinations and have a system of education rather than for children.

Mrs. Stoner is not the first person to turn present systems upside down, theoretically, but her theories are exceptionally in that she has the living, breathing proof of their efficacy.

Many of us have heard of the "wonder child," Winifred Jr., who at 9 years of age passed the entrance examinations to Leland Stanford University.

At 13 was pronounced by Dr. M. V. O'Shea of Missouri University and by other authorities by whom she has been tested to know more and be able to do more than the average university graduate.

Used polysyllables at the age of 1 year.

Read at 15 months.

Wrote her name on hotel registers and began keeping a diary at 2.

Received a diploma in Esperanto at 4.

Speaks eight languages and has published several books.

Has a working knowledge of higher mathematics and a dozen sciences.

Is adept in many arts and accomplishments, and besides all this is a healthy, hearty, fun-loving little girl, a sport enthusiast, developed physically beyond most girls of her age.

Never Went to School and Lessons Are Games.

Winifred never has gone to school, a day in her life. She has had her lessons, rather games, out of doors whenever possible. Her mother has been her constant teacher, or rather playfellow.

Mrs. Stoner spoke to the Pedagogical Society the other night. The daughter does not accompany her. Having reached the age of 13, when according to the mother's theories, physical development is most important and brain development is complete, she is at home resting.

"Is there not the danger now that her interest in learning will flag, and that, like many infant prodigies, she will not develop further?" I asked, when accorded an interview with Winifred's mother.

"Start a child toward knowledge along pleasant routes and it always will love learning," responded Mrs. Stoner.

"My child is not a prodigy. She possesses certain native gifts. She is a born teacher and she has the artistic temperament. But her development is the result of training by which any other child might develop equally. I have trained a hundred other children by my system of natural education and they are much farther advanced than their children of their age."

"It is only that I have a message for other mothers that I make this tour. I do not profit by it financially. I charge nothing for the lectures and even the proceeds of my book, 'Natural Education,' I do not touch, but intend it shall be used to found a center where others with ideas about education may meet and exchange them. I intend to visit each large city once, and only once. As soon as I have got before the public what I want to get before it I shall go back to my husband and the 'kid,' at Wilmington, N. C."

The husband, Col. James Buchanan Stoner, is a surgeon in the navy. Mrs. Stoner is a daughter of Lord Sackville West, one-time British Ambassador to the United States. She told me somewhat of the pleasant routes to learning along which Winifred has been led.

"The whole system is embodied in the term, purposeful play," said Mrs. Stoner. "Just three tools have been indispensable to my teaching: the dictionary, the typewriter, the book of nature. This last is a child's encyclopedia, an English publication."

"Only one question has the baby asked, the answer to which I was not able to find in the book. That was, 'How far can a cat spit?'"

Otherwise, we have depended upon good Mother Nature and ever resourceful imagination for guidance. The mother cat, which gives her kitten all necessary information about how to protect itself, to find food for itself, to grow strong and agile in body—and teaches largely through play, has been an ever present model to me.

Songs of Virgil Were Baby Winifred's Lullabies.

"That my child could scan Virgil as soon as she could formulate syllables, which was at 6 months, was due to my using Nasse songs, so perfect in metric, as lullabies. The sense of rhythm was developed from the very first. Her first spelling was done upon the piano, when she learned the names of the notes; but before she learned the names of the notes she learned to distinguish the 'r' sound."

"We played a game called hot and cold, warm and cool. It was the same as 'Who's got the button?' only 'cold' was a low note on 'g' and 'hot' was a high note, or 'a,' etc. Then we set our spelling to music on the typewriter. The typewriter has been invaluable as a teacher of reading, of expression and grammar. She did not have to learn to form letters laboriously with untrained fingers before she could express her knowledge of the letters. And pounding the keys strengthened the little fingers so much that when she began with the violin a great deal of finger exercising could be eliminated."

"On the typewriter we would take the 'at' family, for instance, and to the tune of 'How Dry I Am' we learned to spell at, but, cat sat, eat, fat, mat, hat—the whole 'at' family from a to z. The same way with the og family and the ot family, and all the other families of little words. Rhythm has played an important part in Winifred's education and to this day when she wants to remember anything she does it into the form of a song. On the same principle that you learned the number of days in the month by 'Thirty days hath September,' she has learned the names of the Presidents, the rulers of Great Britain, the best English body—she calls that her 'Bony Song'—and any number of useful facts."

"Any facts she wants to remember, she makes into a list, writes opposite some telling bit of information about them, then composes a poem about them and by the time she has it completed she knows them by heart. A number of these poems, in several languages, make up her book, 'Facts and Zingles,' which has been published."

"Do you thing she comprehends the meaning of these facts she memorizes?" I asked.

"Oh, no," not always," replied Mrs. Stoner. "Children learn like parrots. But the facts stowed away while the memory is receptive, will be appreciated and understood when the age of reason is reached and the age of memory is closed."

"Mother Goose" in Esperanto, profusely illustrated by Winifred, is another of her youthful publications.

Mathematical Figures Were Learned as Pictures.

"Geometry and trigonometry was another great game," said Mrs. Stoner, searching among her luggage for a book wherein were set forth an amazing series of problems in parallelograms, hexagons, octagons, rectangles, circles, squares, that had grown into images of childish fancy as houses, petticoats, hats, automobiles, trees, animals, one labeled a "running kaboodle," because it resembled nothing known to established natural history—and cubist pictures of children, animals and landscapes, each the result of a problem in the higher mathematics.

"We got suggestions for these geometrical figures from everywhere about the place. The top of the table, the pencil, the lamp globe—everything suggested a problem and at the same time taught us observation. We played a game of tag where every player must be found near a geometrical design or be it."

Be it said that enthusiasm, vitality, intense interest being what makes good sport, the little Winifred had the ideal playfellow in her mother. An intense, vivid, personality is Mrs. Stoner, attractive in appearance with her brilliant brunette coloring and fine physique. She is never pedantic, is warm-hearted, affectionate, has no patience with the teacher who "has a poker at her back," often employs a vigorous slang expression, is magnetic, compelling you to an interest in anything she might suggest. With this is the lively imagination to make new suggestions always. One wanted to stop and live over one's play days with her and it is easy to see how her younger playmate grew and quickened in mentality through fascinating games of her suggestion.

"Geography was another game we played by means of cut-out puzzles of maps," she explained. "After they were placed together we would stop off in our imaginary journeys around the world and learn of the national wonders, people and industries of the different localities. We supplemented these with trips to the zoo and botanical gardens and aquarium, where we got natural history as well. Rhythmic and ever resourceful imagination for guidance. The mother cat, which gives her kitten all necessary information about how to protect itself, to find food for itself, to grow strong and agile in body—and teaches largely through play, has been an ever present model to me."

Her Fairies Knew When She Was Good or Bad.

"Fairies and imagination have entered into everything that Winifred has done. They have contributed her punishments and her rewards. If she had been a good girl they left a sweet orange where she could find it. If bad, only a sour lemon. But her fairy tales are not delusions. She reasons and appreciates the difference between the real and the improbable. One of her magazine stories has to do with a fairy Santa Claus. She reasoned that it was foolish to suppose a large, fat gentleman came down the chimney, since we had no chimneys, only steam pipes. So she made her fairy Santa so small he scarcely was visible to the naked eye and filled his pack with germs which were to grow and multiply into gifts.

Where my teaching differs from that of other mothers is that I have merely directed the child's natural instinct and craving after information, and have spared her the endless, useless games most children dissipate their energies upon without any constructive development. It was just as easy, I found, for her to learn to say 'train' as 'choo choo,' and 'cow' as 'moo moo.' One of my theories is that what one knows one can impart, and all knowledge is useless which we cannot express. I have developed through teaching baby. And as soon as she has learned something I encourage her to teach it to some of her playmates. Thus it is that she has several promising pupils and is developing through teaching them.

"It would be rather wonderful if she escaped being a teacher, wouldn't it?" But now that she is resting, with nothing to do but plan what she shall do with the wonderful amount of knowledge already her own, what do you suppose is at present her heart's desire? I asked Mrs. Stoner and she replied:

"To be a cowboy and an editor."

She added: "Not a bad combination at all and a perfectly natural result of her taste for literature and out-of-door sport. I hope she may adopt so well-balanced a career."

REGAL

Sixty Styles at $4
Sixteen Specials at Five Dollars

THIS season, when skirts are fuller and swing higher, the shoe has moved from an unimportant item in the theme of dress to an important place in a woman's costume.

This year America is setting its own fashions, and REGAL was the first to translate them into leather.

The GYPSY pattern, which we introduce in all Regal Stores this Fall, has become the undisputed Style Leader throughout the United States.

Women who are keen judges of value will do a little Window Shopping and compare this Black Kid Gypsy pattern at $4.00 with similar patterns which may now be found in nearby shops selling at $6.00, $7.00 and $8.50—and remember that we make the shoe and guarantee the quality.

Wireless Music From Light.

UPON the heels of the announcement of the use of the incandescent lamp as the chief instrument employed in telephoning without wires across the continent comes the announcement that the same instrument has been used to produce music from light. In explaining the discovery of his "wireless lamp" or "audion," Dr. Lee de Forest said that it meant that "science now offers musicians a new method of producing music which seems capable of limitless possibilities."

The History of a Fall

"Know You Sir Cyril Wollobie, K. C. S. I., C. M. G., and All the Other Little Things?"

By RUDYARD KIPLING.

HERE English will not do justice to the event. Let us attempt it according to the custom of the French. Thus and so following:

Listen to a history of the most painful and of the most true. You others, the Governors, the Lieutenant-Governors and the commissioners of the Oriental India.

It is you, foolishly outside of the truth in prey to illusions so blind that I of them remain so stupefied—it is to you I address myself!

Know you Sir Cyril Wollobie, K. C. S. I., C. M. G., and all the other little things?

He was of the Sacred Order of Yourself—a man responsible enormously charged of the conservation of millions.

Of people. That is understood. The Indian Government conserves not its rupees.

He was the well-loved of Kings. I have seen the Viceroy—which is the Lord-Maire—embrace him of both arms.

That was in Simla. All things are possible in Simla. All things are possible in Simla.

Even embraces.

His wife! Mon Dieu, his wife! The absurd imagination prostrates itself at the remembrance of the splendour Orientals of the Lady Cyril—the very respectable Lady Wollobie.

That was in Simla. All things are possible in Simla. Even wives. In those days I was—what you call—Schonob. I am now a much larger Schonob. Volle the only difference. Thus it is true that travel expands the mind.

But let us return to our Wollobies. I admired that man there with the both hands. I crawled before the Lady Wollobie—platonically. The man the most brave would be only platonic towards that lady. And I was also afraid. Subsequently I went to a dance. The wine equalled not the splendor of the Wollobies. Nor the food. But there was upon the floor an open space—large and parklike. It protected the dignity Wollobicallism. It was guarded by aids-de-camp. With blue silk in their coat-tails—turned up. With pink eyes and white mustaches to ravish, also turned up.

To me addressed himself an aid-de-camp. "That was in Simla. Today I do not speak to aids-de-camp."

I confine myself exclusively to the cab-driver. He does not know so much bad language, but he can drive better.

I approached, under the protection of the aid-de-camp, the luminosity of Sir Wollobie.

The world entire regarded. The band stopped. The lights burned blue. A domestic dropped a plate.

It was an inspiring moment. From the summit of Jakko 46 monkeys looked down upon the crisis.

Sir Wollobie spoke. To me in that expanse of floor cultured and parklike. He said: "I have long desired to make your acquaintance."

The blood bouillon in my head. I became pink. I was anointed under the weight of an embrace insubmissible.

At that moment Sir Wollobie became oblivious of my personality. That was his custom.

Wiping my face upon my coat-tails I refused myself among the fouled. I had been spoken to by Sir Wollobie! That was in Simla. That also is history.

Pass now several years. To the day before yesterday!

This also is history—farical, immense, tragic-comic, but true. Know you the Totnam Cortrode?

Here lives Maple, who sells washing appliances and tables of exotic legs. Here voyages also a Omnibus Proprietariat.

That is to say for One penny. Two pence is the refined volupte of the Aristocrat.

I am of the people. Entre nous the connection is not desired by us. The people address to me epithets, entirely unprintable. I reply that they should wash. The situation is strained. Hence the Strike Docks and the Demonstrations Laborious.

Upon the funeste tumbrel of the Proprietariat I take my seat. I demand air outside upon the roof. I will have all my penny.

The umbrell advances. A man aged loses his equilibrium and deposits himself into my lap.

Following the custom of the Brutus Londoner I demand the Devil where he shoves himself.

He apologises supplicatorically. I grunt. Encore the tumbrel shakes herself. I appropriate the desired seat of the old man.

THE conductaire cries to loud voice: "Fare Guvnor."

He produces one penny. A reminiscence phantasmal provokes itself.

I beat him on the back. It is Sir Wollobie: the ex-Everything! Also the ex-Everything else!

Figure you the situation! He clasps my hand. As a child clasps the hand of its nurse.

He demands of me particular resignments of my health. It is to him a matter important.

Other time he regulated the health of forty-five millions.

I riposte. I enquire of his liver—his pancreas, his abdomen.

The sacred internals of Sir Wollobie! He has them all. And they all make him ill.

He is very lonely. He speaks of his wife.

There is no Lady Wollobie, but a woman in a flat in Bayswater who cries in her sleep for more curries.

He does not say this, but I understand.

He derides the Council of the Indian Office. He imprecates the Government. He curses at Journals.

He has a clob. He curses that clob. Females with teeth monstrous explain to him the theory of Government.

Men of long hair, the psychologists of the paint-pots, correct him tenderly, but from above.

He has known of the actualities of life—Death, Power, Responsibility, Honor—the Good accomplished, the effacement of Wrong for 40 years.

There remains to him a seat in a penny bus.

If I do not take him from that. I rap my heels on the knife-board. I sing "The Internationale." I am also well disposed to larn.

He courses himself underneath a mistral and he damns the fog to eternity.

He wills not that I leave him. He desires that I come to dinner.

I am grave. I think upon Lady Wollobie—shorn of chaparrals—at the Club. Not in Bayswater.

I accept. He will bore me affreusely, but I have taken his seat.

He descends from the tumbrel of his humiliation, and the street hawker rolls a barrow up his waistcoat.

Then intervenes the fog—dense, impenetrable, hopeless, without end.

It is because of the fog that there is a drop upon the end of my nose so chiseled. Gentlemen the Governors, the Lieutenant-Governors and the Commissioners, behold the doom prepared.

I am descended to the gates of your Life in Death. Which is Brompton or Bayswater. You do not believe? You will try the consequences when you return: is it not so?

You will fall. As others fall. Your seat waits you on top of an Omnibus Proteas. I shall be there. You will embrace me as a shipwrecked man embraces a log. You will be "dam skittles!"

glad to see me. I shall grin. O Life! O Death! O Power! O Torment! O Stars! O Honor! O Lodgings! O Fog! O Omnibus! O Despair! O Skittles!

LITTLE THEATER IS OPENED AT OLD COLONY BAZAR

Vandeville Program and Playlet Given in Room That Seats Only 120 Persons.

A Little Theater, in the Sheldon Memorial Building, 368 Washington boulevard, was opened last night in conjunction with the Old Colony Bazar, being held at the memorial, for the benefit of the building fund. The theater is a room at the rear of the building and seats not more than 120 persons. It was used last night at both performances of a vaudeville program, in which Lady Gregory's playlet, "The Workhouse Ward," was the chief feature. Gustavus Tuckerman and Dr. George W. Moore took the parts of bedridden and quarrelsome inmates of the hospital department of a cheerless English poorhouse. Mrs. W. W. Boyd Jr. appeared as the relative who offers one of them a home. They refuse to be separated, and after her departure they resume their abuse of each other.

The feature of tonight's bill in the Little Theater will be scenes from the "School for Scandal" by Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Walker.

MIKADO'S DAILY LIFE DEMOCRATIC; BELOVED BY ALL

Wears Occidental Apparel and Strolls Through Streets of Nikko Without Pomp or Ceremony

By Associated Press.

NIKATO, Nov. 12.—In days not far distant the people of Japan were forbidden to gaze upon their monarch. When the divine ruler passed through the streets houses were closed and barred and windows darkened and the inhabitants prostrated themselves in silence and in homage. When this circumstance of history is placed side by side with a modern summer incident of Nikko, with an emperor strolling along a public thoroughfare enjoying his vacation, while numbers of persons passed unknowingly, unrecognized, almost touching him, there is had some comparison of the old and the new Japan.

The sauntering emperor was Yoshihito, who embodies both the ancient sanctity and the new democracy. He wore an ordinary Western sack suit of gray, a Panama hat such as might be seen on Broadway any day protected his head from the Nikko sun, and a stick helped to complete the picture of a very modern ruler.

No guard was visible; only two members of the household walked behind, and as the emperor stopped to enjoy some shop window, these men entered occasionally to make some purchase. Yoshihito likes to encourage the merchants of the empire. He is a great favorite at those same art shops at Nikko which have attracted so many thousands of American visitors.

Popular belief and deep reverence for their emperor as lineal descendant of the Sun Goddess have invested his person with such an atmosphere of sanctity that the masses of Japanese people—the older people especially—logical and practical as they undoubtedly are, do not willingly give ear to reports that their sacred monarch is profane in French, fond of billiards, and even occasionally wears a sack suit.

The emperor Yoshihito, born in 1879, until he was proclaimed Crown Prince in 1887, was known as Haruno-miya. At 8 years of age he was sent to the Peers' School, that aristocratic institution later governed with martial severity by the late Gen. Nogai.

The young prince remained there until he was ready to be expected of a monarch not averse to the acquisition of foreign knowledge. Through him more than one old tradition of the court has been blasted. His tutors were appointed personally by the late emperor, and among them were men who made honest efforts to train the prince according to other moral ideas than those which for centuries had held the imperial court in their sway.

Men Take Place of Women.

Count Oku was one such teacher. His first act on appointment was to petition Emperor Mutsuhito in favor of the abolition of the system which from time immemorial had surrounded the imperial Princes by court ladies. Oku favored the substitution of military men and the petition being granted, from the year 1882 the friends and tutors of the Crown Prince of Japan were men only.

The young man was trained in the monarchical virtues, instructed in Chinese classics and subsequently in French, which, as emperor, Yoshihito still regularly studies. His tutor in history was the famous Gen. Fukushima, the soldier who rode across Siberia on horseback and was, at the coronation of King Edward in the suite of Prince Komatsu. By this officer the future emperor was grounded in military history and military and naval tactics.

By the imperial house law the Prince attained his majority at the age of 13. A few years later, in 1906, he was married to Princess Sadako, daughter of Prince Kuro. On the 30th of July 1912, the Crown Prince succeeded to the throne of his ancestors. For years before the great event he had been made practically acquainted with the business of government, it having been a rule that he attend his father every Saturday in order to familiarize himself with the routine of life of an absolute monarch.

The emperor's daily life is one of uniform regularity. He rises at 6 and takes breakfast at 8 alone. From 8:30 to 10 he attends to affairs of state dressed in the uniform of a Generalissimo.

At midday he lunches with the Empress, who is first and foremost a good manager and mother. State business again in the afternoon, in foreign civilian dress. At this time of the day his majesty still finds time to read the classics of the Chinese sages and to pursue French.

Emperor Plays Billiards.

In the late afternoon a walk in the palace gardens. Dinner is taken between 6 and 7 with the Empress and the evening is often spent in billiards and reading. This is the program of the ordinary day. His majesty is endeavoring himself to his people much as did his illustrious father by skill in simple arts that make a strong appeal. In a country where he held an annual poetic competition directed by the imperial household skill as a poet must be an imperial asset and the emperor by the consent of the judges is so skilled.

Another example of the democracy of the emperor was furnished last month during the army maneuvers in North China. It has been past custom for cities and towns to make lavishly for the emperor in decoration and festivity during the passage of the monarch. This time Yoshihito issued a request that no special preparation be made for his visit. The people were to go about their business as usual, and make no contribution to decoration and festivity. He wished, he said, to proceed to the maneuvers simply and quietly.

Speaking of Yoshihito and the coming coronation the semi-official Japan Times said:

"The glorious Mutsuhito or Meiji era stands out as peerless in the history of the country, a reign hard indeed to surpass in the excellence of its achievements and the virtue of its head; but this new reign of Taisho is full of bright promise. His reigning modesty has actually been three years upon the throne and three eventful years they have been. As if to mark the beginning of the new reign, political unrest rudely disturbed the nation in its deep mourning. More disquietude was followed closely by a second great national calamity and mourning. Then a new months later the European war broke out upon the world all unprepared and carried this empire in its flood. Indeed we are still in the midst of the whirl of titanic struggles.

"With splendid courage and devotion to his country the emperor of Japan has attended to affairs of state with diligence and rare wisdom, holding counsel with the veteran statesmen and following close in the footsteps of his father, the late great ruler, he began his reign with evidence of a democratic spirit and a liberal mind.

"Like his father, he has never missed an opportunity to show his love and solicitude for the millions of his people.

His subjects and his allies look forward with joy and solicitation to the great coronation of coronation."

While yet Princess, Empress Sadako endeavored herself to her subjects by numerous acts of graciousness. As Empress she has shown herself to be possessed of the most noble and womanly virtues. Since the outbreak of the war with Germany she has presided diligently over the work of the Red Cross aid for the soldiers at the front. Americans who have seen her at garden parties and receptions describe her as "truly queenly" in appearance.

"The empire of Japan," declared the Times, "rejoices that the throne is shared by so fair and chaste a girl—now, as then, and forever the helpmate of the emperor. Long live the emperor; long live the empress. The coronation is here. So Empress."

CORPS OF MENN FIELD TO BRING CONVENTIONS HERE

Influential St. Louisans Visiting National Committee of Both Parties at Their Homes.

Influential political leaders have been sent out by the National Conventions Association to see the members of the Republican and Democratic National Committees at their homes to induce them to vote for St. Louis for the two national conventions. These men have been in the field about two weeks, and have seen many of the committeemen. The conventions association had not intended to make public the fact that workers had been sent out to see the committeemen, but former Congressman Richard Bartholdt gave out an interview in Washington yesterday which divulged the plan. Bartholdt has visited the committeemen in Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania and the District of Columbia, and will go on to New York and the New England States. Albert Boyd Lambert is one of the Democratic workers in the field. Members of Congress, and others having a personal acquaintance with the committeemen are at work.

Big Subscriptions Made.
A. C. Einstein, representing the public utilities corporations, reported today that the $20,000 fund had been subscribed, with the exception of $2000 allotted to two companies who have not repored. Union Electric subscribed $1500 to each fund, and the Bell Telephone Co., $1000 to each fund. United Railways subscribed $5000 to each fund, and Laclede Gas, $1500, as told in yesterday's Post-Dispatch.

James E. Smith, chairman of the association, when asked today, what the steam railroad interests were going to contribute, said that he was working on that matter, and hoped to get a substantial subscription from the carriers, as they would be directly benefited by the holding of the convention here. He said he felt sure the railroads would be willing to do their share.

Four Railroads Enter.
The four railroads entering Baltimore contributed $25,000 to the $100,000 fund raised for the Democratic National convention of 1912.

The representatives of civic, business and improvement associations met last night at the Knights of Columbus Hall and agreed to do their share towards raising the conventions fund. The Tower Grove Heights Improvement Association, at a meeting last night, pledged $100 for each convention fund, and decided to ask each of its 800 members to make an individual contribution of at least $1.

B. J. Cook, secretary of the Retail Furniture Dealers' Association, said at the meeting last night, that committees had been appointed to visit all the retail furniture dealers in the city and solicit subscriptions. He said the committee would put in four days at this work next week.

Dr. A. H. Doellefeld of the Grand-Graves Improvement Association said he got $25 in subscriptions yesterday, and would raise at least $100. The St. Louis Retail Credit Men's Association agreed to raise $100. The Traveling Men's Protective Association has subscribed $25 and will ask each of its members to make a subscription.

The Millinery Traveling Men's Association agreed to raise $100. The same amount was pledged by the Southwestern Mercantile Association. The Implement, Vehicle and Hardware Association also agreed to solicit subscriptions from its members.

$1000 From Realty Men.
W. W. Butts, secretary of the Real Estate Exchange, said that committees would visit all the dealers, and he expected a subscription of at least $1000. The Retail Grocers' Association pledged $100.

The Wholesale Liquor Dealers' Association, through President T. A. Hugo, reported that $1500 already had been subscribed, and that the additional $500 asked would be underwritten. John J. Pense said that the Retail Liquor Dealers' Association had appointed four committees to solicit subscriptions, and that he expected a large contribution would be made. The Retail Druggists' Association also reported that four committees had been appointed to visit the 50 druggists and solicit aid.

GOVERNOR PARDONS DONALDSON

Gov. Major issued today a full pardon to A. B. Donaldson, former preacher, who was convicted in St. Louis of swindling Mrs. Oran Belle Ridgely of Assumption, Ill., by selling her Missouri mining land while making love to her.

Donaldson was serving his sentence in the Missouri penitentiary when he was released to the Illinois authorities to begin serving a term at Chester penitentiary on the same charge. Mrs. Ridgely procured a parole for him there by telling the Board of Pardons that the land sold by him to her had proved valuable. He was paroled by the Missouri authorities last December. He is said to be maintaining an office in Chicago now and selling stock in various enterprises to women.

PRESIDENT APPOINTS BOARD FOR FIRST AID STANDARDIZATION

Organization Created on Recommendation of Conference of American Surgeons Will Instruct Civilians.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—First aid efficiency among civilians of the country in time of peace which, in necessity, might be utilized for military requirements, is the objective of the board of first aid standardization appointed by President Wilson yesterday. The organization was created in pursuance of a resolution adopted by a conference of American surgeons on first aid held in Washington last summer.

The plan is to standardize first aid packages and equipment of all sorts, means of transporting and handling wounded, and first aid instruction among civilians, particularly those allied with industrial plants of the country.

Sunday School Class On Strike.
CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Fifteen young men members of Adolph E. Rouland's Sunday school class in the First Methodist Church of Maywood declared themselves on strike today as a result of Rouland's resignation, which followed, he said, political differences with J. L. Hanley, superintendent of the Sunday school.

IN JUSTICE TO FRANK CREWS

Had Pleaded Guilty to Theft.

In late editions of last night's Post-Dispatch it was erroneously stated that Frank Crews pleaded guilty in Judge Fishar's court to a charge of stealing an automobile tire. The man who pleaded guilty was Frank Russo, whose name was confused with that of a witness for the State in another case in the same court.

3 BALKAN KINGS ARE WELL KNOWN TO PARISIAN LIFE

They Are Ferdinand of Bulgaria, Peter of Serbia, and Constantine of Greece.

Correspondence of the Associated Press
PARIS, Oct. 31.—Three Kings—Ferdinand of Bulgaria, Peter of Serbia, and Constantine of Greece—are well known to the Parisians just now, and hardly less important are their three Premiers, who have been making most of the moves in the new game of the Balkans.

The three Balkan Kings are almost as well known here as in their own capitals. They make frequent official visits at which they are central figures at grand levees at the Quai d'Orsay, gala performances at the Grand Opera, and military reviews at Vincennes.

They used to come often, also, on business, chiefly to buy the latest pattern of French artillery, the famous "75." Besides these kindly visits, each of these monarchs, incognito, has had his days as a Paris boulevardier, a Peter in particular and his royal brother, Arsene, are well acquainted with the paths of Bohemia leading through Montmartre and the Latin Quarter.

On one of King Ferdinand's visits there was opportunity to view him at close range, as he received a most democratic fashion at a reception at the Foreign Office. He was in the center of a group of Cabinet Ministers, and his military retinue in their brilliant uniforms. But the King himself was in plain evening clothes, with the wide red ribbon of the Legion of Honor across his breast. He is of massive build, and quite looks the part of a King or Czar. His face is genial and his yellow hair and Saxon beard give him rather a German aspect.

Another a French Woman.
Some of Ferdinand's German characteristics are receiving special attention since Bulgaria has ranged herself with Germany. While a German Prince of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, and born at Vienna, his mother was the French Princess Clementine of Orleans. It is also noted that he is an officer of the Legion of Honor during her famous defense of the Fourth Prussian Infantry, though the probably has no more significance than his wearing the French Legion of Honor.

During Ferdinand's visit to Paris he was enthusiastic in praise of the French troops, drawn up 12,000 strong at Vincennes. After the review he toasted France at a self-dedicated banquet of distinguished officials, and in the midst of his tribute paused and said:

"They say Ferdinand wears a charm to preserve his life and happiness. It is false; I wear no secret charm. But I do wear something more glorious and inspiring than any charm, and here it is. And, throwing open his coat, he displayed the cross of the Legion of Honor, around his neck and close to his breast.

In many other ways Ferdinand gave evidence of his French sympathies. He even kept at the royal palace at Sofia, in a small silver box, a bit of French earth, as a tribute to the soil he so often visited and loved.

He also had at the palace a collection of rare French souvenirs—the cloak in which Louis XV was consecrated King; one of the dainty slippers dropped by Marie Antoinette during her famous defense from the mob by the Swiss guard; the black crystal cup from which Napoleon drank to his victory at Austerlitz, and other rare objects.

Emperor Looks Ahead.
As explaining Ferdinand's recent tendency toward Germany, a story is related by a diplomatist recently stationed here. According to this, Emperor William, even before the European war began, foresaw possible eventualities in the Balkans and personally addressed himself to the three Kings of Bulgaria, Greece and Rumania. His overture to each was most tactful. He did not ask them to range their countries on the side of Germany.

All he asked was the promise from each that in the event of a European conflict they would not make war against Germany. This seemed fair to the three Kings, and they are said to have given their promise to it on the theory that it did not commit them to war, but to keep out of war.

"But the Kaiser is said to have viewed it from another standpoint, and to have felt quite serene since then at the efforts of the quadruple allies to have the Balkan States range themselves solidly against Germany."

However, the situation has much changed since these alleged promises. The King of Rumania has died and been succeeded by another. The King of Greece has found a new condition presented to him at the time of the so-called promise—that Greece's ally, Serbia, was attacked by Germany's ally, Austria. This, according to the story of the diplomatist, has left King Ferdinand as the only one to carry out the promise.

Has Interesting Family.
King Ferdinand has an interesting family. The Crown Prince, Boris, has shown himself a good soldier. He received the surrender of Cavalla from the Turks.

Many Bulgarian pictures show Ferdinand and Boris standing on the ruined walls of Cavalla. This is now an added sting for Bulgaria, as Cavalla has passed into the hands of Greece. The two young Princesses, Rudoxia and Nadejda, nursed the wounded during the last war. Many Americans have autograph letters from these young Princesses, for after issuing a personal appeal to Americans to help the wounded, they wrote personal acknowledgments to everyone who responded.

King Peter of Serbia has had a restless and adventurous life, spending most of his early years in Paris while a rival dynasty occupied the throne of Serbia. He was then plain Peter Karagoritch, living in Paris and Geneva in anything but royal style. At war and peace the rival dynasty was wiped out, by the assassination of the King and Queen Draga that the wandering Peter suddenly found himself a King.

Mingled With Americans.
During these Bohemian days Peter mingled a good deal among the Americans visiting Paris. In this way he came to meet the daughter of one of the merchant princes of Chicago and showed her marked attention. This was so noticeable that Paris papers at the time referred to the prospects of a union between the prospective King of Serbia and a young American girl. It is said not to have been Peter's fault that an American Queen does not reign today in Serbia.

Peter's brother, Arsene, was his close companion in the Bohemian days. And when royalty suddenly descended on the family it was Arsene who did most of the celebrating. King Peter proceeded to Belgrade to take up the cares of state, but Arsene remained for some time in Paris.

The celebration on the eve of his departure will ever be remembered as one of the most remarkable of the Paris boulevards have ever witnessed. It occurred at a restaurant on the rue Royal, famous for its midnight gaiety. The best of wine celebrated the advent of the new dynasty, and Arsene's departure to share in the royal rule.

But the climax was what surprised the boulevardiers, as they saw the diners come from their tables, bearing buckets filled with champagne, which was offered to the horses of the midnight flares lining the curb. It was the only time on record that the Paris cab horses were treated to champagne.

Peter proved himself an excellent King, and Arsene and all the others have distinguished themselves. The King has now given over most of the cares of state to the Crown Prince, who, with Paschwitz, is the directing genius.

King Constantine of Greece is also a well-known figure here, as he used to be a frequent visitor, while Crown Prince, trying to stimulate official and public attention in Greece's rights in Crete. Although born at Athens, Constantine is a Danish Prince, coming from German stock, a Field Marshal of the Prussian army, and his wife, Sophie, a Prussian Princess, an own sister of the Kaiser.

Some people draw deductions from this as to the cause of his recent break with the Kaiser.

reigned when the King did not fully concur in the policy relative to the landing of Anglo-French troops at Salonika.

Yet this is only surmise, and against it is the ability with which Constantine and his father have brought Greece out of its old state of decline up to the position of one of the real forces of South-eastern Europe.

MR. SHORT SPORT: The craze for reducing applies to rent as well as to fat men

By Jean Knott

HEY JOE, SNO USE TALKING ABOUT MERE WORDS BEING FUTILE AN' IN VAIN SNO USE I TELL YA.

WHY SO?

WELL, I JUST HAD A LI'L CONVERSATION WITH THE LANDLADY ABOUT THE RENT—AN THE STRENGTH AN' POWER OF MY LOGIC TRIUMPHED.

Y'DON'T MEAN TO SAY SHE'S GONNA REDUCE THE RENT?

YEP, THAT'S EXACTLY WOT'S GONNA HAPPEN SHE'S GONNA REDUCE THE RENT

MY, MY! NOW EACH OF US WILL HAVE TO PAY LESS.

OH NO, YOU PAY THE SAME—SHE ONLY REDUCED MY HALF.

YALE EVEN HAS SCRIMPAGE SINCE SATURDAY

New Head Coach Shevlin Devotes All Team's Time to Running Off Signals.

PRINCETON IS 3 TO 1 FAVORITE OVER YALE

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 12.—The evidence of the strength of Princeton and notwithstanding the four defeats suffered by Yale this year, there is an air of confidence on the campus today that the blue is about to return itself. The Tigers are warm favorites in the betting, the most popular odds offered being 4 to 1.

The crowd promises to break all records for Yale-Princeton games. Only a few thousand of the 40,000 who saw the game last Saturday, it is estimated, will be at the structure will be filled. The Princeton squad will spend the night at Hartford, and come here tomorrow afternoon.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 12.—The Army of Yale coaches virtually have completed the mad rush of whipping the Yale team into shape for the Princeton game. A light signal practice will be held this afternoon to keep the men on edge.

The fact that there was no scrimmage yesterday occasioned considerable surprise, but the omission of that part of the workout is in line with the tactics which Tom Shevlin and his assistants have pursued all week. There has been but one scrimmage since the Brown defeat last Saturday, the remainder of the time being spent in teaching the men football theory and in perfecting the execution of the new plays with which it is hoped to defeat the Tigers.

In this week the Yale forwards have given an excellent account of themselves, with the result that Yale now believes in the strength of a strong defensive machine.

There is no dissatisfaction among either coaches or players as to the improvement made by the team this week. Improvement has been rapid and a general hopefulness over the result of the Princeton game is apparent. The new plays upon which most of the work this week has been going very well and Yale's proficiency in offense ought to surprise spectators who witnessed the Yale team's performance against Brown last Saturday.

Scovill Out of Lineup. Shevlin made the signal workout yesterday afternoon as hard as an ordinary day of scrimmage, for he never allowed a let-up. All of the plays were run off several times, and the whole drill lasted more than half an hour.

The Yale lineup will be as follows: Left end, Church; left tackle, Gurney; left guard, Blacky; center, Whittier; right guard, J. J. Sheldin; right tackle, Wray; right end, Wideman; quarterback, Van Nostrand; left half back, Wilson; right half back, Bligham; full back, Gurney.

The only change in this arrangement will be the substitution of Higgins for Church, who is injured. Higgins, who was injured in the game with Princeton, is expected to start the game in the pivotal position, and this will make the difference in the line.

Except for the center, the Tigers will face Yale as they did Harvard. Princeton's line is expected to be the same as in the game with Harvard, and this will make the difference in the line.

It was with this combination that the Princeton team defeated Yale last year, and it is expected that the Princeton team will be able to repeat this feat.

Poge Lewis a Marked Man in Washington-Billikens Game

His Toe May Be Deciding Factor

Washington Captain's Field Goal Booting Ability Will Compel St. Louis U. to Concentrate in Attempt to Break Up Play— Betting on Tomorrow's Battle Even.

By W. J. O'Connor.

TOSS a coin, if you are in doubt about tomorrow's game at Sportsman's Park between the Billikens and Pikers. Partisans of the two teams are betting even money; and it's an even proposition, seemingly. The teams have had no common enemy, this year, and the comparative score method of doping is wanting. Both teams have been beaten by comparatively inferior adversaries; but both have been pointed for this game and should attain their top speed tomorrow, for the first time this year.

Washington is believed to have the better line, St. Louis the better backfield. The Pikers are regarded as a defensive team, the Billikens as a better attacking machine. St. Louis has a 400-pound trio in the center of the line, Snoble and Schopp, the heavier eleven, averaging 170 to 180 pounds. However, Washington's left is more evenly distributed. St. Louis has a 400-pound trio in the center of the line, Snoble and Schopp, the heavier eleven, averaging 170 to 180 pounds. However, Washington's left is more evenly distributed.

The Pikers have no 300-pounder, but on the other hand, there is no body in Washington as light as Corcoran or Thomas, the fleet Billiken backs. And it is in this even distribution of weight that the unbiased follower of the game sees an advantage for the Myrtle and Maroon.

Hachman Is Not Feared. The mysterious Mr. Hachman returned yesterday to the Pikeville fold and positively will play Saturday. It is worthy of note, though, that the Billiken backfield is not as strong as it was last Saturday, the remainder of the time being spent in teaching the men football theory and in perfecting the execution of the new plays with which it is hoped to defeat the Tigers.

SPORT SALAD

BY L.C. DAVIS.

The Probable Winner.

ONE more day until the "Pikers" go against the blue and white; and we have a "premonition" it will be a dandy fight.

We will make but one prediction; if you can stick a pin in Keegan's Kids will stop the bacon. If the "Pikers" do not win.

But we'll add to this prediction just a saving alibi: Neither will stop the bacon if the battle is a tie.

*Early English for lunch.

Shooting Stars.

A number of diamond stars have taken up shooting as a winter pastime.

A Movable Feast.

The Federal League meeting, which started in Indianapolis Tuesday and moved over to Frank Lick Wednesday, has worked its way around to Chicago. Those boys sure do like to travel.

Johnny Kilbane has been suspended for failure to appear in answer to a charge that he stalled in a bout with Mitchell in Milwaukee recently. If Johnny isn't careful he will be declared an amateur.

Miss Louisa Long is cleaning up at the horse show in New York. Miss Long is a native Missourian and is as willing to show as to be shown.

The Yale football team is now run by a bunch of coaches. Since this system went into effect they have lost but one game. Incidentally they have played but one.

Too many cooks spoil the broth. Too many coaches, put the team in the soup.

Rough Stuff.

Frank Moran, the Pittsburgh heavyweight, is gradually working his way up to a match with Jess Willard for the championship. Frank gained a decision yesterday by pushing her off a bench, and using abusive language.

The chorus lady does the decision on a foul, and has taken the matter into court for adjustment.

Some people seem to think they are justified in using foul language to a chicken.

A recent divorcee and her attorney are having a nice little battle for the custody of the alimony.

With a four-eyed pitcher and a one-eyed catcher the Cards are still one eye to the good.

MAUPOME WALLOPS LEAN IN 3-CUSHION MATCH

Pierre Maupome, representing this city, won the match with Jean Lean of the Interstate three-cushion billiard league match last night when he walloped the visiting guest.

It was one of the poorest matches played here in the history of the league. Maupome, who was defeated by Lean, took his revenge by walloping Lean in the second match.

Joe Capron of Chicago trimmed Hugh Reed, Toledo, 80-33, in 72 innings last night. Capron's high run was six and Reed's was one.

Rickley won from Al Baker, 100-78, in the State championship pocket billiard tournament at Schaefer's last night.

Laws handed Kilium a 75-51 walloping in the class A pocket billiard tournament at Arlans.

Yesterday's Fight Results

Philadelphia—Willie Hansen knocked out Mike Oswego three rounds. Roy Hunt outpointed Charlie Brown in 12 rounds.

Jack Dawson Johnny McLaughlin beat Bill Kistler; Joe Bradley Eddie McLaughlin all six rounds.

Sullivan—Young White of Oklahoma and Johnny Walcott ten rounds draw.

Jersey—Frankie Murphy of Lockport won from Frankie McCann ten rounds.

Mass.—Finney Boyle got 12 round decision over Larry Hanson, a very bad verdict, Hanson was rightfully winning with ease.

And Schwartzbach are available for and backfield duty, while Hammer and Warner are the only backs who can play the regular line. The Billikens will be better off with the backs than the Pikers, and it is a struggle such as this that will be a lot more fun to the spectators. Those who are sure to be in the first line of defense as well as in some persons' back account. Considerable money has been bet.

McKINLEY ELEVEN BEST LOCAL PREP TEAM, DOPE SHOWS

Tie With Undergrads Yesterday Makes Central Appear a Loser Thanksgiving Day.

Dig up the earth and bury Central is the logical thing to do, if you base the chances of the mid-city eleven against McKinley, in the big "prep" game between these two schools Thanksgiving day, on the comparative score method.

The South Siders have had the advantage in the Walker in every game against a common enemy this season. Yesterday the St. Louis University undergraduates held the Red and Black to a 7-7 tie. One week ago McKinley beat the Undergrads 12 to 0. McKinley walloped Soliday 7 to 0, while that team handed Central a 12 to 0 setback.

Yeastman was set down to a 23 to 0 tune by Central, but the Crimson rolled up over a hundred points on the North Enders. It is the same way in the minor game, the Crosby clan always outscoring Central.

Not Based on the "Dope."

According to the Soliday bunch, however, Central played a harder game against them than McKinley did, in the early part of the season. It is the general consensus of opinion among the West Enders that Central will defeat McKinley in the Thanksgiving game.

They base their contention on the fact that McKinley is essentially a one-man team—Jim Conklin. Outside of "Conny," the South Siders have shown but little offensive power. The McKinley bunch is hailed as about the cleanest tackling team in the city and McKinley's defense is expected to be stopped. As to the defense, there is no doubt that the McKinley team will be a formidable force in the feature of this year's high school football.

FEDERAL RAID OF THE COAST LEAGUE HITS YANKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Having played havoc with the International League by signing many of its star players, as well as establishing clubs in Newark, Baltimore and Buffalo, the Federal League has now turned its attention to the Pacific Coast League, where a successful club, the San Francisco Seals, is being staged by the independent forces.

So far, two of the most valuable players in the league, Fred Luderus and Ed Walsh, have been lured to the Federal League, while a dozen more of the Seals' stars are expected to follow.

Some of the other coast players who are likely to flip over to the Federal League are: Jimmy Johnston, the speedy outfielder of the Oakland club, and Joe Gedeon, the young second baseman of the Portland club.

WRAY'S COLUMN.

Goodbye, Old Eli!

TIME was when, if one opposing team scored points on the Yale Bulldogs, in a football game, the undergraduate gloom would thicken, and mutterings against the coaches would begin. When Yale lost, it was a calamity. This year, in New Haven, they are accepting defeats almost as a matter of course.

Never in the history of Yale was there such a football disgrace as that which this season's eleven has brought upon the university. Four opponents, of a more or less minor caliber, have beaten Yale decisively. Leigh would have made a fifth, but for the eleventh-hour touchdown of Legore, a player since declared ineligible.

Yale has made some astounding recoveries in the past, but the task of beating the Tigers and the crimson is too great, seemingly.

With Yale, if expectations are fulfilled, will have gone through the season with the following record:

Six games lost, out of nine played.

Of three victories won, one was hardly deserved.

Of the other two teams beaten, Maine and Springfield T. S., neither ranks above third or fourth rate.

Omitting the Maine score, 37-0 in favor of Yale, opponents have already tallied more points than the Eli.

If Harvard and Princeton score as expected, opponents will have outscored Yale, INCLUDING the Maine count.

These and other disasters that have befallen the Eli, however, are more setbacks than Yale has suffered in a decade of her previous history.

It does nothing else, however, but to make the Yale team a serious consideration of the Yale system this winter by the university's well-wishers.
